ALMA MATER

Honor to the Black and Orange!
Sing the glad refrain,
Loyal to our Alma Mater,
Ever we'll remain.

Days with her we'll e'er remember,
Though our lives be long,
Here's to her whose name we'll ever
Cherish in our song.

Refrain:

Alma Mater! Alma Mater!
All our vows renew.
Hail to thee, Northampton High School
We will all be true.

BUTTERFLIES

It is time to break out of our sheltered cocoons
Spun of warmth and of friends and of laughter.
In our youth we've been fed and been preached to and taught
To prepare for a harsher world after.

We have clung to the warmth, yet we've struggled inside,
Beating weakly against the enclosure,
Not yet quite strong enough for our soft wings to risk
The grave danger of early exposure.

Now we burst forth in our dazzling array,
So bright-colored with hopes and ideals.
In adulthood we'll not lie or murder or steal,
But will make our utopia real.

DEDICATION

To the members of the Class of 1915, pictured on the preceding page, whose wisdom and foresight were responsible for creating not merely a yearbook, but a chronicle which has come to be a valuable vehicle for recording data for posterity, as well as a cherished tradition, this fifty-first edition of the Amptennian is respectfully dedicated.

FOREWORD

Upon learning that the first issue of the Amptennian was published in 1915 and that the current edition marked fifty years of continuous production, it was the unanimous decision of our classmates that our theme should commemorate this golden anniversary.

We of the staff were very happy about this choice since the opportunity to pursue a theme such as this occurs only once in a lifetime. In keeping, therefore, we have endeavored to establish as many ties as possible with the originators of our yearbook. This was done in several ways. One was in our cover design; another was through the use of photographs and other data pertinent to the Class of 1915. Still another, which involved serious problems, was the use of pages taken in their entirety from the 1915 Yearbook and their adaptation to color. Last but not least, the art work by Gail Kramer, the caricatures by William Frey, and the expressions of thought by Lillian Mirro that span the page tops, were all designed to bridge the fifty-year interval both ways. We lovingly call our caricatures "Angela" and "Chadwick."

We are humbly proud of this golden opportunity to produce this golden book, which happily by coincidence — and not by premeditation — coincides with our class colors. We hope we have been able to do justice to such a worthy theme.

To you, then, we present the 1965 Amptennian. May it be a cherished addition to your treasure trove of memories.

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

To everyone who has contributed to the 1965 Amptennian and its production, we tender our sincere and warm-hearted thanks. There are so many of you: our faculty advisors, the gang that worked night after night — and parents too — the Allentown Morning Call, other teachers, friends, the staff, other students, fellow classmates, alumni, purchasers, contributors, patrons, and many more not possible to name. Without your help this golden anniversary edition would not have been possible. Thank you again.

THE JUNIOR

New to Northampton this year is a Junior School Board. It was initiated by Mr. Albert L. Henry, superintendent of schools, who also serves as advisor.

The purpose of the organization is to provide a two-way street of improved communication between the top administration and the student so that better understandings of the problems of each may be developed. Thus, the student gains an insight into the functioning of the School Board as well as into citizenship responsibility; conversely insights as to student views and difficulties are obtained.

A portion of the new Junior School Board, above, is Julieann Augustine, secretary, seated; Jerry Dotter and President Gregg Amore, standing.

BOARD OF

The history of education in Northampton is a fascinating tale going back to 1901 when the Borough of "Alliance," now Northampton, was separated from Allen Township. The first School Board for the new borough was officially organized on April 28, 1902. In June of that year, the first class graduated from "Alliance High School," but received Allen Township diplomas.

In 1910 a new high school, now the Area Junior High School, was dedicated, and in 1915, when the Amptennian came into being, the members of the School Board were Thomas Boyer, president; Calvin A. Gross, vice president; Stewart W. Borger, secretary; Henry B. Reed, treasurer; Purie A. Christman, Willoughby D. Easterday, and John S. Renner.

Some of the men who are responsible for the destinies of our schools are, from left: Guy Rice, Lehigh Township; David Olson, assistant to the superintendent; Albert L. Henry, superintendent, seated; George Bennis and Atty. Russell Kowalyszyn, both of Northampton, and Howard McMurry, Lehigh Township, standing.

SCHOOL BOARD

Representatives to the Junior School Board are elected on the basis of two each from Senior high grades (tenth through twelfth), and one each from Junior high grades (seventh through ninth).

Selected to represent Senior high on this year's initial Board are Gregg Amore, president, and Julieann Augustine, secretary, Seniors; Peter Schneider, vice president, and John Gill, Juniors, and Rita Rice and Jerry Dotter, Sophomores.

EDUCATION

In 1950 the complexities of modern society brought on a major change involving consolidation of school districts for greater educational opportunity to all, and the Northampton Area Joint School Board, still functioning similarly, was born. One of its initial knotty problems was the construction of a new senior high school, which was completed in 1960.

Regardless of changes in span of time and organization, however, some things have remained constant: always unheralded and unsung, these men shouldered the responsibilities and came to grips with the problems that beset education. Their patient, untiring efforts have been a greater influence toward helping us take our places in society than we shall ever realize.

SUPERINTENDENTS

Through all the years from the beginning, Northampton has been most fortunate in having capable and dedicated leaders.

Our first superintendent was William D. Landis, elected as soon as the position was established. He resigned in 1922 to accept the position of Teacher Training Supervisor at (then) Kutztown State Teachers College. He later served as superintendent of Whitehall Township schools until his retirement. It was he who was faced with the building of new schools, including the high school and the organization of a complete public education system.

Succeeding Mr. Landis was S. Clyde Franken-

field, who rose through the ranks of teacher and principal. Mr. Frankenfield brought many innovations, including a permanent record system, the 6-3-3 organizational plan, which also brought construction of the junior high school, special education, and others. Now retired, he left to become supervising principal of Catasauqua schools in 1930.

From 1930 to 1961, our beloved Dr. George A. Eichler held this position. Gentle but firm, he was the helmsman through the consolidation, the new high school, and innumerable other problems, plus constantly striving to better school-community relations.

ALBERT L. HENRY, B.A., M.A.
Superintendent of Schools

Our present superintendent, Mr. Henry, came to us four years ago with a sterling reputation for competence in education. The formidable list of innovations initiated since that time testifies to that. His ideal is "teaching youngsters to live a useful, productive, upright life," and he constantly strives to attain its reality. He has varied interests, among them hunting, golfing, and reading; he has also assumed an active role in the community. In school, students respond to his genuine warmth and interest.

PRINCIPALS

The men who served as principals of our high school during the past were no less diligent or competent than those who served in the superintendency. Minutes of the School Board tell us that the first principal of the high school, from 1902 to 1905, was E. J. Bernhardt. Then Mr. Landis served first as principal; a year later as supervising principal. Succeeding him was Harry W. Shimer, who left in 1913 to accept the superintendency of the Woodstown, New Jersey schools. Mr.

Frankenfield then assumed the principalship and was subsequently named superintendent in 1922. Ira L. Sheaffer, who had been assistant principal since 1913, who ardently promoted the school athletics program — and science — and everything for the betterment of his charges, then served as principal until his retirement in 1946.

The zeal, devotion, leadership, and interest these men possessed is still apparent today.

NORMAN A. LAUB, B.S., M.A.
Principal

For the past nineteen years, Mr. Laub has been the guiding hand behind all school projects and activities — the school itself. His is truly an enviable record; a record marked by patient, unceasing effort to make this school a better place and by his aspirations to better prepare students for the responsibilities of citizenship; a record whose success has earned him the right to be proud, if he were a proud man. To him, our friend and leader, we owe a debt of thanks; it was he who cared enough to see that everything was as it should have been; it was he who was always there to solve the problems with which we could not cope.

Truth for his armor

ALFRED LAUBACH, Ph.B., M.A.

Administrative Assistant

The morning announcements, which Mr. Laubach makes, are invariably the harbinger of a hectic day for him, a day which takes him to just about every nook and cranny of the school in the performance of an endless series of tasks — endless in diversity as well as in number, and many far from being pleasant. You would expect successive days like this to sour the spirit of any principal's right-hand man, but that of Al, as he is affectionately known, is indestructible. His warm friendship and hearty laugh survive even the last period, and we love him.

ALBERT M. LERCH, B.S., M.Ed.

Director of Guidance and Activities

Although he is one of the busiest persons in the school, Mr. Lerch always makes himself available to discuss any problem, whether it's vocational, educational, or emotional, with any or all of us, and usually seems to come up with a solution. He has an unswerving desire to guide young people toward the achievement of their goals and to prepare them for their life's work. Scheduling assemblies, administering exams, and our problems keep him busy, but he's never too busy to be a friend.

MRS. JANET SCHAADT

Our very efficient, capable, and most accommodating secretaries constitute one of our most important assets.

THERESA DORNBACH

and knowledge for his shield,

FLORA OBRECHT, B.A., M.A.
Girls Guidance Counselor

No problem is ever too much for Mrs. Obrecht to hear or attempt solution; she has a sympathetic ear for everyone. As such, she is sought out by girls and boys alike, and for all she has a helping hand. She also interviews each girl personally and individually, the better to understand her and the better to prepare her for the future. Her pleasant, cheerful smile is a giveaway to her friendly disposition; this is invariably the right medicine to start curing any problem.

PETER P. SCHNEIDER, Ph.B., M.A.

A new member of the Guidance Department this year, Mr. Schneider has proven himself most successful in dealing with students and their problems. A giant of a man with heart to match, he has the gift of putting his youthful seekers at ease and anxious to respond. This quality also serves him in his capacity as advisor to the Student Council.

You'll find them in the main office and the guidance office, where their courtesy, cheerfulness, and helpfulness are bywords.

Leon C. Kuntz, seated, discusses concert scores in a scene characteristic of a decade and longer ago. From left, standing, are Mr. Edwin Berg, then his colleague in music, now Junior High School Principal; Raymond C. Kohler, now of Cementon; Michael Skweir, now a captain in the Army Dental Corps; Richard Porotsky, now with the Cincinnati Symphony Orchestra, and his son, Leon C. Kuntz Jr., now with the Metropolitan Opera Company, New York City.

LEON C. KUNTZ

September 5, 1893 — December 7, 1964

Diminutive in physical stature — he stood barely five feet tall — but a veritable giant in his chosen profession, Leon C. Kuntz went on to study for the Great Master on December 7, 1964.

He was one of the most picturesque, one of the best loved, and one of the most challenging individuals ever to serve on the faculty.

A native of Treichlers, he was graduated from the Northampton High School and later from the New England Conservatory of Music. He served in World War I and was with the American Expeditionary Force in France. While there, he became a member of the 79th Division Band and played an instrument newly emerging into recognition, the saxophone. He was discharged as a First Class Musician and was attached to Headquarters Company, 310th Infantry Regiment.

He loved music with an all-consuming passion and was an accomplished pianist and organist. In 1932, Mr. Kuntz came back to Northampton after a career as a symphony musician to become director of instrumental music in the high school. Besides his work in the schools, both instrumental and vocal, he was active in music throughout the area — the Bach Choir for 35 years, director of the Northampton Male Chorus, music chairman of the Allied Male Choruses of Eastern Pennsylvania, Northampton Rotary music director, organist in a number of churches, and more. Most of all, he instilled the love of good music in his hundreds of students and inspired a number of these to greatness. Though health forced him to retire in 1959, he never retired from music. Neither will the impact of the man who taught us Bach ever leave; he lives in our heart forever.

A figure outlined against the setting sun,

Dr. Mahlon G. Miller, on left, with typical humility, receives the fifty year citation of the Pennsylvania Medical Society at a special meeting of the Northampton Area Chamber of Commerce in 1955. He was a "youngster" of 78 then. Next to him is another "youngster," Dr. Thomas Stites, Nazareth, then president of the Northampton County Medical Society, who made the presentation. Third from left is Mr. Anthony Billera, then president of the Chamber, while offering congratulations on the far right is the late Dr. Charles E. Meixsell, then also a "youngster" — of 74.

DR. M. G. MILLER

June 1, 1877 — December 26, 1964

One of the most familiar and best loved figures within our halls — and the halls of all the local schools — for longer than we, and our parents as well, can remember, left us this term.

Dr. Mahlon G. Miller, affectionately known as Northampton's "Grand Old Man" of the medical profession, passed away on December 26, 1964.

He was one of Northampton's most active and unselfish citizens. As a civic leader, he was a founder and charter member of the Northampton Board of Trade, now the Northampton Area Chamber of Commerce. As a sportsman, he was a past president of the Lappawinzo Fish and Game Protective Association and was one of the organizers of the former Twin County Fair held on its grounds. As a public servant, one of a number of such activities was his service for many years as the president of the Northampton Board of Health.

Dr. Miller was also one of Northampton's most honored citizens. He was the first to receive the "Golden Deeds" award of the Northampton Exchange Club; in 1955 he was cited by the Pennsylvania Medical Society on the anniversary of his fiftieth year of medical practice. Numerous other honors, including some by his associates in the local schools, were bestowed upon him.

Most of all, to us, Dr. Miller was an untiring, dedicated colleague who faithfully served the schools and the children he loved as medical examiner since 1916. To us this great man, who was a teacher before he became a physician, was an institution. Now he has become a precious memory — one the youth who take our places in these halls will never know or ever have the privilege of sharing.

As the world's work goes on.

Dr. William F. Boucher, school medical examiner, right, raises a smiling countenance momentarily from a chart he and Miss Lillian Stettler, school nurse, left, are studying.

MEDICAL STAFF

For the first time in fifty years, except for a short interim in the past, the familiar countenance of Dr. Miller is not shown here. Upon his passing, described on the preceding page, the task he left was accepted by Dr. William F. Boucher, of Northampton. Already a familiar figure, our new Medical Examiner and Miss Lillian Stettler, R.N., school nurse, are most capably and efficiently attending to student health needs, not to mention initiating a tradition of their own.

CUSTODIAL STAFF

The Custodial Staff is a busy one. Without the constant, persevering effort of these dedicated people, the school would really suffer. They keep the grounds neat and attractive, heat the school, care for equipment, and attend to the numberless tasks — plus the inevitable emergencies — that are always around. Yes, the Custodial Staff is a busy one.

One of the most welcome highlights of every school day is the luncheon break. It's not so much the "pause that refreshes;" in reality it's the delicious, nourishing meals that have come to be a customary institution with us.

The menus are planned by Mrs. Mary Zirinsky, our pleasant and competent dietician and are prepared and served under her direction by these equally pleasant and competent ladies. Needless to say, they're designed to keep us pleasant and competent, and they do.

A Message to the Seniors:

For most of us it has been a long, hard, twelve years. We have been waiting in great anticipation for June 9, 1965, and graduation. Now that the time has just about come, though, the anticipation has been succeeded by a twinge of sorrow because we are about to lose our second home.

A number of us have been together since first grade, others since seventh, and some for just one or two years. Regardless of how long we've been together, though, I feel we are a closely-knit class which has worked well together and has accomplished much. Many of us have created warm friendships that will stay with us throughout our lives. Others of us may never see each other again, but one thing for sure; we will never forget our days at Northampton High.

For some of us June marks the end of our formal education and the start of a lifetime of work at a job or jobs. For others it may be the beginning of a career in the service, or a summer of relaxation — then four or more years in college, beginning in September. No matter where our future endeavors take us, though, or whatever we do, we will constantly have to rely on our high school education to carry us through.

To you, fellow members of the Senior Class, I bid a fond farewell and a sincere thanks for all your efforts to make our Senior days happy and prosperous. May all of your future endeavors be successful, fruitful, and filled with happiness.

Dennis could easily pass for the original laughing boy; humor and fun are his wont. Shooting — whether afield or at pool — is his as well. Now he's shooting for the whine of industry, especially the Bethlehem Steel Company.

Phyllis Barthol
Seemsville
Secretarial

A football game, a wrestling match — you name it — Phyllis'll be there. The rest of the time you'll find our avid sports fan attending 4-H Club and church activities. She's just as avidly considering business college and a secretarial career.

Activities: National Honor Society 3; Amptennian 3; Chorus 1.

Thomas Barthold
Bath
General

A little on the reserved side, yet with a constant smile, is Tom. Although he hasn't been a part of the school athletic program, Tom's loves are football, baseball, and basketball — and he's always playing them. Or, he's eating at the Blue Lantern. Next, he wants a uniform.

Linda L. Bartholomew
Northampton
Secretarial

A true paradox is Linda. She's quiet, efficient, friendly; a good student in school, where she does art for the Courier, and excels in painting. Put her at a game — and she attends them all — and she's a screaming banshee. She's readying herself for the business world in a dental office.

Activities: Concrete Courier 2, 3; National Honor Society 2, 3; Amptennian 3; N Club 3; Quill and Scroll 3; Art Exhibit 2.

Wainwright Beal
Moore Township
Secretarial

Clicking cleats and carefree clowning, and the tall, thin trickster from Chapmans is on the scene. You'll find Wain swimming, slugging in runs, or just basking in the summer sun. The glamor of the army dog-face and combat are beckoning to him.

Activities: Amptennian 3.

Francis J. Becker
Kreidersville
General

Who wants to learn something about guns — or hunting — or the great out-of-doors? Our expert is Francis, also known as the "happy hunter." If you're hunting Francis, and he's not hunting, hunt for him at home. Make it soon, though — he'll soon be hunting a job.

Kathleen B. Becker
Northampton
Academic

Effervescent, talkative, and original — that's "Dimples!" Parading with the color guard, talking on the 'phone, and wearing the latest fads complete this busy brunette's agenda. A classroom full of tots seems to be her intent.

Activities: Chorus 1; Vespers 1; Spring Concert 1; German Club 1; Color Guard 2, 3; Student Council 2, 3; National Honor Society 2, 3; N Club 3; Amptennian 3; Art Exhibit 1, 2; Intramurals 1; Stage Crew 2; Usherette 2.

Diane Beers
Cherryville
General

You always know when Diane's nearby — you can hear her! What else? You ought to see her play football. Otherwise, "Beersol" likes to make clothes, go to the movies, and attend games. Instead of footballs, she'll soon be working on heads — in her beauty shop.

Activities: Fashion Show 1, 2, 3; Future Homemakers of America 2.

Wilson T. Beers Jr.
Cherryville
General

Here's Wilson, the guy who's either flying or absolutely immobile. At school or the Blue Lantern, he's stock-still; at the stock car races or in his "fast '51," he really moves. Speaking of moving, he's planning to grow wings — in the Air Force.

Jacalyn Beltzner
Allen Township
General

Some people are lucid; others are loquacious; our jovial, jocular Jackie is both! Out of doors, her favorites are swimming and ice skating. All this will help Jackie swim through the problems of a medical secretary.

Activities: Fashion Show 1, 2, 3.

Bonnie B. Benninger
Pennsville
General

The dashing blue of her eyes, and the splashing red hue of her hair match the flashing figure of B. B. — Bonnie, that is — down the B. B. — basketball court. Or, it's painting, Eddies, the Blue Lantern, or riding horseback. Now she wants to ride the waves — in the Waves.

Activities: Basketball 2; Meteorology Club 2, 3.

Donald O. Bensinger Jr.
Lehigh Township
Academic

As you would expect of a National Honor Society member, Chuck's quiet and capable. He does everything with dignity — reading, painting — even skating or going on walks. Chuck doesn't talk much about his walks, but from all indications, he's walking toward college.

Activities: National Honor Society 3.

Barbara M. BenVenuti
Northampton
Academic

Looking for Barb? Look for action — she invariably pops up there. She struts in the color guard, makes speeches, sings, dances, belongs to everything, promotes everything — and has won everybody over to her. Her wit and gift of gab will win over her elementary pupils, too.

Activities: Chorus 1; Vespers 1; Spring Concert 1; Stage Crew 2; Color Guard 2, 3; Usherette 2; N Club 3; Amptennian 3; National Honor Society 3; Senior Class Play 3; Junior Speaking Contest (first place) 2.

Only a few fleeting moments.

Judy Berger

Secretarial

Giggles and twinkling eyes portend Judy and her pranks. This "class clown" forces everyone to laugh at sports events, Hillside, even her team mates on the hockey field. Dancing and water skiing are no exception. We expect Judy'll laugh her way through life as a practical nurse.

Activities: Tri-Hi-Y 2; Hockey 3.

Jan K. Billy
Northampton
Academic

A man — that's Jan — and the Marine Corps Physical Fitness trophy proved it. This "Gordon Ranger" is also a terror on the gridiron and the mat as well as a "Big 5" member at the Gourmet Inn. What now? Prep school, college, and then, possibly, the ministry.

Activities: Gym Club 1, 2, 3; Gym Exhibition 1, 2, 3; Football 1, 2, 3; Wrestling 1, 2, 3; Physical Fitness Team 2, 3.

Ronald Bird
Lehigh Township
General

He's the silent type, and he's likeable. Ron runs too — on the track team. Otherwise he's haunting Slatington or afield with his gun — after birds. Bird has a mechanical bent, perhaps it'll be with a hue of Navy blue — and that's not for the birds.

Activities: Gym Club 1; N Club 2; Track 1, 2, 3.

Constance Lee Bird
Walnutport
General

Ever hear of a deer bird? Connie's one; she's always spotting 'em. She's a thunderbird too — in her '57 Chevy. She goes to the races and eats at the Blue Lantern, but not like a bird. She's testing her wings to soar into a new life.

Activities: Future Homemakers of America 2.

John Borbacs
Lehigh Township
Academic

Remember the day of the quiet, diligent student? John's a hold-over. He's also an ardent fan of hunting, fishing, and the great out-of-doors. He has a hankering for electronics and is all wired up for the armed forces, where he hopes to pursue this field.

Activities: Debate Club 2.

William P. Borger
Northampton
Academic

There's nothing like a true extrovert — like being boisterous — like Bill — "Having fun while you can." Bill has fun everywhere — at Hillside or on the black Honda heading for Sam's Cities Service station. Now he's headed for college and marine biology.

Activities: Science Club 1; Lighting Crew 1, 2.

Patsy A. Bowman
Danielsville

Where there's laughter and talking, here you'll find cute, petite Pat. Full of pep and always on the bounce, she's either bouncing on skates, bouncing with the Gym Team, bouncing on horseback, or bouncing to DeeVille. Soon, our National Honor Society girl will bounce into a secretary's chair.

Activities: Gym Club 1, 2, 3; Amptennian 3; National Honor Society 3.

Darlene Braker
Northampton
Secretarial

Mix blonde hair and green eyes; add some laughter; the result: Darlene. Listening to music, dancing, baby-sitting, and trilling the high notes on the choir are only some of her activities. A high in school — National Honor Society — she's hieing for top-flight — as a secretary.

Activities: National Honor Society 2, 3; Amptennian 3; Usherette 3.

For history's clock of time is golden

Leroy C. Brobst
Northampton
Academic

Leo thrives on fun and likes to be wherever something's happening. His mellow voice undeniably enhances the chorus, boys octet — all our vocal groups — and his speed is just as important to the track team. Leo wants a B.S. and a career in mathematics.

Activities: Mixed Chorus 1, 2, 3; Boys Octet 1, 2, 3; Vespers 1, 2, 3; Spring Concert 1, 2, 3; Band 1; Mixed Ensemble 2, 3; N Club 3; Senior Class Play 3; Track 1, 2, 3; District and Regional Chorus 2, 3.

Daniel Butz
Bath
Academic

Smiling, energetic, ready to do more than his share — these attributes characterize "Butzie." He devotes hours and hours to school activities and to his church's youth group. Danny's goal is more school — to major in music or religion.

Activities: Chorus 1, 2, 3; Boys Octet 1, 2, 3; Mixed Ensemble 1, 2, 3; Vespers 1, 2, 3; Spring Concert 1, 2, 3; Band 1, 2, 3; Dance Band 2, 3; Junior Speaking Contest (second place) 2; National Honor Society 3.

Glen L. Chamberlain
Lehigh Township

Blonde, brown-eyed, and bursting with energy, "Beanie's" one of our "keeni-est" classmates. In the gym, Beanie's a Queenie — the belle of the balance beam, no less. Hillside, being a lifeguard at the pool, and basketball ring bells too. So do her own typewriter, desk, and office.

Activities: Art Exhibit 2; Gym Exhibition 2, 3; Physical Fitness Team 3.

John M. Chimics
Northampton
Secretarial

John is one of our nominees for reliability and trustworthiness, yet he appears to be the most carefree guy in the world. A member of the Trading Post gang, he also puts in a lot of time working on his car. He wants to put in some more time — at business school.

Activities: Football 1, 2, 3.

Connie Christman
Moore Township
Academic

Connie is energy personified, with a lot of capability added — and perhaps a bit of caprice as well. She tackles everything with the zest of a zealot, even driving her '39 Plymouth; dislikes egotists and dentists, but admits there's a difference. When she grabs life by the coattails, look out!

Activities: Chorus 1; Vespers 1; Spring Concert 1; German Club 1; Intramurals 1; N Club 2, 3; Debating Club 2; Amptennian 3.

Ronald Cimino

"Skinny" is easily recognizable; he wears the longest, blackest hair and the tightest pants of anyone in the school, and exhibits all the usual attributes that go with these. He goes for hunting, swimming, cars, and hanging 'round Harhart's gas station. He might go for the Marines or hanging from a parachute.

Bernald R. Coleman
Northampton
Industrial Arts

There's no stouter yeoman than "Barnyard," this bowman. He's a sports lover, but archery overdraws them all. In or out of school, no matter where, everybody likes Bernie. His likes are a uniform, the magical world of the press — maybe both.

Grace, the gift of gab; Linda has them both, plus a beguiling grin. She goes for bowling and miniature golf. She's also the Million Dollar Baby in the Five and Ten Cent Store — Newberry's, of course. If you want to encounter Linda, just step up to her counter and hear her pleasant, "May I help you?" — anytime.

Activities: Tri-Hi-Y 2; Usherette 2.

Lucille S. Creyer
Northampton
Secretarial

A quietly friendly personality and a genuinely cordial smile are but a few of Lucille's attributes, not to mention her top quality as a student. Active in other things as well, she sews, reads, and participates in 4-H. Wait 'til she gets that bookkeeper's or secretary's desk.

Activities: National Honor Society 3.

Gregory Csencsitz
Northampton
Academic

Wherever you'll find dancing, diversion, and dames, you'll find "Diz." You'll also find him bowling, or just passing time at Hillside. No matter where or when, he's always pleasant and smiling, a fine figure of a fellow. He figures on a math major in college.

Activities: Basketball 1, 2; Football 1.

Christine M. DaMore
Northampton
Academic

Chattering, cheerful, cavorting, clownish — Chris is all of these. She doesn't walk, she whizzes; whether to the library, Amptennian, through books and conversation — even the pool — yes, the car, too. She's all geared up to whiz through college as a history major.

Activities: Chorus 1; Vespers 1; Spring Concert 1; German Club 1; Library Club 2, 3; Amptennian 2, 3; N Club 3; Senior Class Play 3; Intramurals 1; Stage Crew 2, 3.

Janis L. Daumer
Northampton
Academic

Whoosh! No, it isn't the other white tornado; it's Jan. Always doing something, Jan's our expert on getting to class at the last minute without being late. She's a jovial jokester, and finds time for music, reading, and making clothes. She'll find music in making and reading pictures; x-ray, that is.

Activities: Chorus 2; Vespers 2; Spring Concert 2; Library Club 3; Concrete Courier 3; Amptennian 3; Senior Class Play 3.

Ralph H. Dech
Northampton
Academic

No, "Spyder" isn't a spider, and it isn't a car; it's Ralph. Maybe it's because he's so deadly on the mats; it could be for most any reason, even more. Besides being a nice guy, he's active in 4-H activities, is interested in science, and likes sports and reading. This just about weaves Spyder for college.

Activities: Science Fair 1; Science Club 2; Projectionist Club 1, 2, 3; Wrestling 1, 2, 3.

Elouise V. Deily

Definitely the athletic type is Phil. Not only is he an all-around sportsman — being a shifty left guard and a spooky third baseman — he's a good sport as well. His hobby? You've guessed it; sports; all of them, plus eating at Hillside or the Ritz. He's readying to tackle college or technical school.

Activities: Football 1, 2, 3; Baseball 1, 2, 3; Amptennian 3.

Thus fleeting.

How did your baby picture get into the Courier? Blame it on "Biel." Another one of the "lively ones," she runs the gamut from getting scoops for the Courier to scouting, to soaking in the sights of Northampton, to teaching Sunday School. She likes teaching so much she wants a room of her own.

Activities: Concrete Courier 1, 2, 3; Amptennian 3; Quill and Scroll 3; Usherette 2.

Linda Lou Dilliard
Northampton
Secretarial

Stately, dignified, and demure, Linda's found her niche in the library. On the field of sport, though, "Pickles" becomes a screaming siren — a far cry from her other pursuits, like reading, dancing, and studying. She has a niche reserved in the business world.

Activities: Library Club 1, 2, 3.

Robert M. Drake

Delivering on the diamond, or driving at the drags, "Joe's" always identifiable by his Beatle haircut. Speaking of beatles, sports bug him; so does Hillside and the races. But — they don't bug Beatles in the Air Force.

Activities: Football 1; Baseball 1, 2, 3.

Diane Edelman
Bath
Secretarial

The trill of laughter echoing through the hall generally betrays the presence of Diane. This happy-go-lucky lass is a dedicated disciple of "study is fun," as her membership in the National Honor Society will attest. She enjoys reading and music; we're sure she'll do the same with a secretary's desk.

Activities: National Honor Society 3; Amptennian 3.

Donna Edelman
Moore Township
General

Donna is the possessor of that unbeatable combination — sparkling blue eyes crowned by beautiful blonde hair. What's more, she possesses the personality to go with them. Equally striking in a fashion show, her father's Ford, or lunching at the Blue Lantern, Donna's a hit at DeeVille as well.

Activities: Future Homemakers of America 2; Meteorology Club 2; Fashion Show 1, 2, 3.

But precious little memories . . .

Jane Edelman
Moore Township
Secretarial

There's nothing zany about Janie; here is about as practical and level-headed a person as you'll find. She's always working on something, either in the library, on Amptennian, or for National Honor. Her trademarks are a ready smile and a cheery "Hi." She's hieing toward a secretaryship, maybe with IBM school in between.

Activities: National Honor Society 3; Amptennian 3; Library Aide 3.

Raymond Edelman

Is he eating again? Jim, alias "The Nose," is usually at Hillside munching food, or with a certain someone. At times, he crowds in driving the Ford and swimming; in school it's wrestling and track. Now he's wrestling with either art or psychology; which wins remains to be found out.

Activities: Track 1, 2, 3; Student Council 2, 3; Wrestling 2, 3.

Barbara J. Fenstermaker
Northampton
Secretarial

A blonde, blue-eyed beauty, Barb is fond of horses and spends much of her time astride her favorite hunter. Hunting or thriving on cokes at Hill-Top are a few more of her favorites. Her favorite aim is fortune hunting.

Activities: Intramurals 1; Tri-Hi-Y 2.

Bonnie L. Fenstermaker
Bath
Academic

Perky, petite, and pretty, Bonnie's as bonnie as her name implies; a picture personified as she stands avidly expressing her views with blonde hair cascading over her eyes, a sly giggle, easel in one hand, and a phone in the other. Her moods cover a spectrum from dancing to walking in the rain, or just thinking. She thinks about social work sometimes.

Activities: Chorus 1, 2; Vespers 1, 2; Spring Concert 1, 2; Art Exhibit 1, 2, 3.

Daniel E. W. Fenstermaker

Take a combination of Friday night dance regular, Library Aide, National Honor Society, basketball; add fun-loving and a smile, and you have "Faysie;" but don't let that "fayse" you. Other phases of her activity are Hillside, reading, and playing records. Her next phase is secretarial.

Activities: Library Aide 1; Intramurals 1; National Honor Society 3; Amptennian 3.

Frank Filipovits
Northampton
Academic

The "young man with the horn" of our class is Frank. We can frankly say that Frank just about literally blew his way through school in the band, the dance band, and the basketball band. On the outside, "Flip" does a flip; his diversionary activities are sports — bowling, baseball, and football. Just how else he'll flip is anybody's guess.

Activities: Band 1, 2, 3; Dance Band 1, 2, 3.

Rose Marie Flick
Lehigh Township

She's reserved and studious in class, shy around strangers, but among her scores of friends, Cathy loses her constraint. Always orderly; first comes school work, then reading, swimming, and records. Next in order are college and teaching — English, of course.

Activities: German Club 1; Amp-tennian 3.

Janet Gabryluk
Northampton
Secretarial

Who's the jocular, jabbering joker? Janet, of course. Sports — from gym to hockey to riding — are her weaknesses, if you can call it that. She has a weakness for Hillside too, but has developed weaknesses for the sphere of the secretary — or cosmetologist.

Activities: Gym Club 1, 2, 3; Fashion Show 1; Intramurals 1; Gym Exhibition 1, 2, 3; Girls Basketball 2, 3; Hockey 3.

James L. Gardner
Pennsville
Academic

Quiet, almost to the point of shyness, is Jimmy — until sports come up for discussion — you hear from him then! He does more than talk about them; he plays a lot of football and basketball 'round about, but he reads a lot too. He's got a roundabout route to college, via the Air Force.

John Gasper
Bath

It's impossible to mistake "Mani" — supple, sweet, slinky — not to mention statuesque. A disciple of bright lights and gaiety, you find her brunette beauty in demand as a college campus queen. She wants to incorporate the Mani and the queen for mannequin in the glittering world of baubles, bangles, and beads.

Activities: Gym Club 1, 2; Gym Exhibition 1; Intramurals 1; Tri-Hi-Y 2.

Delores Gaukler
Berlinsville
General

Delores is the epitome of quiet composure and demure demeanor, topped off by dark brown hair. She also epitomizes the home arts, cooking and sewing. Her footwork gets her to all the dances; her needlework to the fashion shows — both of them will get her to Paris — Neckwear, that is.

Activities: Future Homemakers of America 2; Fashion Show 1, 2.

Michael Gavura
Northampton
Academic

Everybody likes Mike, the guy with the magnetic manner and the infectious grin, and he likes everybody. He likes the outdoors — hunting, football, baseball. Mostly he likes to experiment, usually under the hood of a late model car. Mentally, he's experimenting with electronics and the Air Force.

Activities: Track 2; Football Manager 1, 3.

Harvey A. Gehret
Northampton
General

One of the most pleasant, unassuming, kind-hearted and sincere fellows around the school is Harvey. Better known as "Moose," he's an enthusiast of sports like football, baseball, and basketball, but you should really hear him bellow "Fore," on the golf course. Here's a "pro" who's "go-go-go."

Activities: Meteorology Club 2, 3.

Paula Gergel
Northampton
Secretarial

Big brown eyes; warm smile — who else could it be but Paula? One of the most ardent backers of anything connected with school, you can depend on seeing Paula at every activity, whether a dance, a football game, art, or Amptennian. Soon you'll see her as a beautician.

Activities: Art Exhibit 2, 3; Amptennian 3; Intramurals 1.

Linda Jane Geiling
East Allen Township
Secretarial

How anyone as "tiny" as Linda can eat so much is a mystery. Look for a bobbing, blonde head wrapping itself 'round steaks and hoagies at the Oasis. Linda's keen for fashions, stock car races, driving — and her own beauty shop.

Activities: Intramurals 1; Fashion Show 1; Future Homemakers of America 2; Drama Club 2.

Steven Gerny
Northampton
Academic

A big smile and friendly "Hello" presage "Cow," our good-looking class Romeo. A three-year homeroom president, his outstanding qualities are sports, loafing, and clowning. Northampton's loss will be business school's gain.

Activities: Football 1, 2; Track 1.

Wayne T. Getz
Northampton
General

The only thing that seems to attract any glimmer of recognition from Wayne is a car. Cars are his life, and when he's behind the wheel, his spirit is as high as his speed. As you'd expect, he's always at the drags. Maybe he's practicing to chase cars as a trooper.

Mary Ann Glennon
Northampton
General

Silver-haired Mary, with her little-girl smile and her ever-ready gab, is known far and wide — to everyone. The crowds, at Don's Coffee House and at the Ritz, are spellbound when she breaks into the latest dance step. Look for Mary wheeling by in her GTO — or on her Honda.

Lynn I. Gogel
Allen Township
Secretarial

Don't let Lynn's dark hair, gay laughter, and sweet smile fool you; she's a slave driver, as her colleagues on Amptennian Business Staff learned. An honor student, Lynn's always busy — babysitting, dancing, singing with the church choir, or studying for A's. She's studying to be an A-1 secretary as well.

Activities: Amptennian 3; Usherette 2; Honor Society 2, 3.

Charles A. Graver
Moore Township
General

Graver is generally a sight for sore eyes in his customary costume: greasy coveralls with blond curls emerging from the one extremity and blue boots from the other. Much sought after, he is usually the object of a daily intercom search. He asks nothing of life except greasy hands.

Norman H. Graver
East Allen Township
General

The acme of practical versatility is Graver. If he's not working on the farm, he's fashioning wood or metal, driving the truck, doing electrical work, or in school. Along with his yen for joking and having fun, he has a yen to be a carpenter or electrician.

Caroline M. Greener
Moore Township
Secretarial

Loads of fun and lots of laughs — that's Caroline. Never is there a quiet moment with her; she's always bubbling with interests, among them the Blue Lantern. She's bubbling with hopes too — mostly the hope of being a secretary.

Activities: Tri-Hi-Y 2; Intramurals 1.

Dianne M. Griesemer
Northampton
Academic

Where there's music, there's Dianne; beating bongos or executing the latest dance steps. This pint-size pixie is a whiz in classes as well as winning friends. Her aspiring nature will drive "Dizzy" to achieve her goal as a Spanish teacher.

Activities: Amptennian 1; Chorus 1, 2, 3; Vespers 1, 2, 3; Spring Concert 1, 2, 3; Library Aide 1; Intramurals 1; Art Exhibit 1.

Paulette Groff
East Allen Township
Secretarial

Long, shiny hair, sparkling eyes, and a warm, friendly smile are Paulette's trademarks, especially if you add a dash of mischief and devil-may-care. Right now, she does a lot of riding — either her horse or her red Chevy — but the word has it that she's rein-ing toward that secretary's chair.

Activities: Fashion Show 2; Concrete Courier 3.

Jacob J. Gruber
Moore Township
Academic

If there's anyone who's the picture of contentment, it's "Jakie." Always ready with a helping hand, he's also one of the most willing fellows we know. If he's not studying, he's tinkering with cars, and his hands are mechanical magic. He's looking for a place where he can work on a lot of vehicles; the Army has 'em.

Bonnie L. Hahn
Danielsville
Secretarial

Bonnie, the possessor of a contagious chuckle, announces herself with a happy "Hi" and always leaves cheer in her wake. A trouble-shooter by nature, she never refuses anyone a helping hand. Bonnie and her Ford convertible are inseparable; you'll usually find them in Slatington or at Lloyd's. She's converting herself for a secretary's desk.

Activities: Intramurals 1; Tri-Hi-Y 2.

Robert G. Handwerk
Lehigh Township
Industrial Arts

Fun-loving, carefree, and master of the art of doing nothing, "Bones" has two favorite sounds — the roar of his car's Lincoln engine and the smack of pool balls. If he's not at the Bath pool room, he's hunting, working on his car, or gorging himself at Lloyd's gas station. What this has to do with contracting we don't know, but he's cued up for it.

Activities: Amptennian 3.

The reunion . . .

David L. Hangen
Northampton
Academic

Need cheering up? Tell "Higgins" and he's sure to hit you with one of his truly original jokes. He enjoys eating at Hillside and playing tennis and basketball. He thinks he might just enjoy teaching history or being a diesel mechanic.

Activities: Basketball 1, 2, 3.

Wayne Harding
Bath
Secretarial

Harding — healthy, husky, and happy — is the epitome of the athletic male. Wayne blends his bountiful, bulging biceps with football, N Club, Spaar's Luncheonette, and circulating 'round the races. He wants to circulate 'round the globe — in the Navy.

Activities: Football 1, 2, 3; N Club 3.

Judy Hauck
Lehigh Township
Academic

The halls erupt; laughter shrieks — yes, it's Judy on her usual joyful juggernaut down through the jungle. Red-headed, witty, charming — and devilish — this bombshell either delights or frustrates everyone else with her frightfully frank appraisals. Heaven help the world of fashion design!

Activities: Chorus 1; Vespers 1; Spring Concert 1; Student Council 2; Art Exhibit 1, 2, 3; Amptennian 3.

Elaine L. Heckman
Moore Township
Secretarial

Meet Elaine, and you'll always remember a pair of laughing brown eyes and a contagious giggle. Always on the go, she's either reading, dancing, or riding around Nazareth with her friends. Now she's heading for a secretarial or practical nursing career.

Activities: Tri-Hi-Y 2; Intramurals 1.

Linda Eileen Heckman
Chapman Quarries
General

Short brown thatch with eyes to match, Linda's not only lively, but lucid and lively. She vociferously works in Bath, dances up a storm at the Point Phillips Club, and swims (in season, of course). There's no doubt about it, she'll talk herself into a job; maybe more.

Activities: Fashion Show 1, 2, 3; Tri-Hi-Y 2; Future Homemakers of America 2, 3.

Richard P. Heffelfinger
Moore Township
Academic

Hefty, handsome, and hard-working, "Heffie" is definitely one of our more urbane colleagues; a far cry from the gridiron, where he's a tough, shifty, fast fullback always good for a score. His courtly manners, friendly smile, and good nature are likewise sure to score with people. With a combination like this, he must score in college.

Activities: Football 1, 2, 3; Wrestling 2; Student Council 2; Amptennian 3; N Club 3.

Sandra A. Heffelfinger
Lehigh Township
General

As friendly as they come, Sandy is also never at a loss for words. Where her car is, that's where Sandy is, and you'll usually find it parked at DeeVille or the Blue Lantern. If you can forecast where her car will be from here on in, you'll be able to complete the pattern.

Activities: Fashion Show 1; Future Homemakers of America 2.

Linda A. Heffintrayer
Moore Township
General

As cute as candy is "Heff." Sometimes she looks the part as well, for Linda serves as a candy striper at Northampton Hospital. This is as dandy as candy with Heff — so dandy she wants to change the stripes but not the uniform — as a practical nurse.

Activities: Hockey 3; Fashion Show 1, 2, 3; Future Homemakers of America 2, 3; Tri-Hi-Y 2.

of two score and ten years . . .

Karen Heitzman
Moore Township
Secretarial

Can you imagine what a stewardess' saucy chapeau, crowning Karen's brown eyes and hair'll do? She's thinking of it, but IBM has a fascination too. As for Karen, she fascinates people, and she's always doing something like reading, writing, dancing or riding horseback.

Activities: Drama Club 2; Fashion Show 1; Concrete Courier 3.

Terry Henning
Lehigh Township
General

There are few people as merry as Terry, as energetic and earnest, yet so consistently courteous. He's happiest when he's a-field, hunting or fishing, but tackles work of any kind with equal zest. He'd best save some zest when he goes to work for his uncle — Sam, that is.

Robert H. Henry
Bath
Academic

One of our ultimates in urbanity, "Hendry" is equally at home in any situation — school, society, sports, or the great out-of-doors. He throws a half-nelson on anything he tackles, from scouting to studying, and everything's engineered with "Hendry" humor. He's engineering to pin an engineering degree.

Activities: National Honor Society 2, 3; Amptennian 3; Wrestling 1, 2, 3; Track 3; Physical Fitness Team 3; Fashion Show 3.

Keith E. Henritz
Lehigh Township
General

They don't call him "Happy" Henritz, but when he's around a car they might as well. Usually he works on cars, but sometimes he drops around to the Slatington pool room or attempts a date. Neither of these diversions are too successful — he wears the brand of the greasy hand.

Janice M. Herd
Moore Township
Academic

A versatile, vivacious, vixen is Herd; vexatious too at times. Our head majorette — and top twirler — she literally herds writing, reading, selling, Methodist youth into her spinning schedule. Her baton's poised to herd a master's degree.

Activities: Majorette 1, 2, (head) 3; Amptennian 3; N Club 3.

Mark A. Herman
Danielsville
Academic

In the mood for a serenade? Hand him a trumpet and Herman will gladly comply. High "C" doesn't strain him and neither does fishing, hunting, or attaining the National Honor Society, for that matter. He'll make his "Mark" in Mechanical Engineering, too.

Activities: Band 1, 2, 3; Dance Band 1, 2, 3; National Honor Society 3.

Joseph F. Herschman
Allen Township
Industrial Arts

From the crown of his kinky hair to his soles, "Big Joe" is a great big bundle of fun. School is sports; he plays football and watches everything else. Otherwise he's under the hood of his '57 Chevy. He's practicing for the rest of his life — under the hood of somebody's car.

Activities: N Club 2, 3; Football 1, 2, 3; Wrestling 1; Track 1.

Brenda J. Hoch
Moore Township
Academic

She has a philosophy: "Make a decision and follow through." Who but Brenda would be both a cat lover and an aspiring mathematician? Who but Brenda would get up early Saturdays to wash cars?

Activities: Vespers 1; Spring Concert 1; Art Exhibit 1, 2, 3; Concrete Courier 1, 2, 3; Quill and Scroll 3; Library Club 2, 3; Chorus 1.

Years of joy . . .

Patricia D. Hontz
Treichlers
Secretarial

Patsy's the girl with the bright blue eyes, golden hair, smiling countenance, and sunny disposition. A staunch school supporter, she attends everything. She's also a swimmer, Luther Leaguer, and car cruiser. Pat's planning to launch a cruise through beautiful school.

Activities: Library Club 1, 2; Library Aide 1, 2.

Mary Elizabeth Horst
Northampton
Academic

You can't beat "Betsy" — whether as a booster, bookworm, or broker. She does everything well — especially music — and you should hear her sing. She likes art and tennis, but mostly Horst likes wagons — Volkswagons, that is. Betsy likes English and law, too; they offer both at Elizabethtown.

Activities: Chorus 1, 2, 3; Ensemble 1, 2, 3; Vespers 1, 2, 3; Spring Concert 1, 2, 3; N Club 3; National Honor Society 3; District Chorus 3; Regional Chorus 2; State Chorus 2; Art Exhibit 1, 2.

Alex Hradkowsky
Northampton
Academic

Blond and boisterous, but as staunch a bulwark as you'll find, Alex is practically our No. 1 practical joker. Golf is his No. 1 weakness, although the "Dip" and taking a spin are close seconds. After dipping and spinning so much, and after college, it's only natural he'd want to dip and spin — in the Air Force.

Activities: Football 1, 2; Student Council 1.

Joyce Hottle
East Allen Township
General

To say Joyce is appropriately named would be the understatement of our time. With eyes a-glow and exuding exuberance, Joyce never fails to jettison joy among everyone in her presence. Sometimes she slows down enough to read or babysit. There's a job for Joy at Mary's Fashions.

Activities: Fashion Show 1; Future Homemakers of America 2, 3.

Ramona K. Hregician
Northampton
General

Blonde and tawny-eyed, "Ronney" usually wears a bright smile in keeping with her gentle disposition and desire to please. She reads, collects photos of movie stars and stuffed animals, or wends her way to the Roxy. She's thinking of changing the wend to a wand — with a beautician's brush.

Activities: Future Homemakers of America 2; Fashion Show 1, 2, 3.

Paul J. Humenik
Northampton
Academic

What? An animated, automated trombone? Impossible; look closely behind it; there's "Peanut" stroking the slip-horn. His stature may be small, but Paul does a man-size job of all he tackles — Dotter's Trotters, for example. His smiling, bespectacled countenance, plus ready wit, plus reading ability equal teacher.

Activities: Basketball Manager 1, 2, 3; Art Exhibit 1; Band 1, 2, 3; Chorus 1.

Patricia A. Keeler
Moore Township
General

Giggling is oftentimes a sign of trouble, and where you find "Top," you'll usually find both. A bright-eyed funster, she even giggles on water skis. Top's looking to the top in one of a couple ways: on top of the world as an airline stewardess, or the top of milady's head as a beautician.

Activities: Drama Club 2; Future Homemakers of America 2, 3; Fashion Show 1, 2, 3; Art Exhibit 1, 2.

Ronald E. Keglovits
Allen Township
General

One of the real nature boys of the class, Ron usually has his eyes set on the horizon and his mind on the forest primeval. A-field, he's happy-go-lucky, whether hunting, fishing, or trapping, and he does 'em all. In between, you might find him at Hartzell's. Where you'll find him from here on in is anybody's guess.

And sorrow.

Joan E. Keller
Bath
Academic

Who's the bouncy blonde who's usually busily buzzing 'n' beeing in the art room? Joanie, of course. She adores pickles and puppies, and, barefoot, of a summer's day, is wont to wend her way along the Delaware to water ski or wield her paint brush. As for Joanie, it's art today, tomorrow, forever.

Activities: Chorus 1, 2, 3; Ensemble 1, 2, 3; Vespers 1, 2, 3; Spring Concert 1, 2, 3; Student Council 2; National Honor Society 2, 3; Amptennian 3; Art Exhibit 1, 2, 3; Science Fair 1, 3.

Edward D. Kemmerer
Cherryville
Industrial Arts

Ed has two loves — building and racing model cars — and they occupy just about all his time. Of course, there's related activity, like go-kart races, stock car races, working on cars including the hunts to junkyards, and such. This is "Duck's" whole life, and he aims to carry on from a mechanic's workbench.

Larry A. Kemmerer
Bath
Academic

Larry is also known as "Lorenzo" — anyone in Spanish IV will tell you why. A pleasant and jovial chap, he's also an active Eagle Scout, and he likes hunting and fishing — pool too. At times, you'll find him in Nazareth. Right now he's pooling his resources to engineer an education so he can be an engineer.

Activities: Art Exhibit 2; Student Council 3.

Carol Kereb
Northampton
Secretarial

About as talented — and as busy — as anyone we know, Carol is interested in, and does about everything: sports, studies, painting, teaching Sunday school. She's art editor of the Courier, and her pencil marks magically make miracles. What this all has to do with airline personnel we don't know, but we're sure this Miss can't miss.

Activities: Concrete Courier 2, 3; Amptennian 3; National Honor Society 3; N Club 3; Quill and Scroll 3; Art Exhibit 2, 3; Intramurals 1.

Charles G. Kern Jr.
Northampton
Industrial Arts

The kernel of Kern's very existence is cars; he does everything but eat 'em. If he isn't driving them, he's fixing them, and if he isn't fixing them, he's looking for something to fix. One of the better known gas jockeys of the class, he can be found jockeying gas at Lentz's. If this doesn't keep him geared up, nothing will.

Larry A. Kern
Allen Township
General

Give him a pencil and paper, and you'll be surprised with what "Neuron" conjures up; you could say he's quite a sketch! Anyway, the Courier has him doing it. He also likes to build model cars, collect automotive magazines, and drop in at Fries' store. For Larry, though, it's art all the way — and he's on the way.

Activities: Concrete Courier 3.

Rebecca A. Kilgore
East Allen Township
Academic

Don't let Becky's big baby blue eyes and demure demeanor fool you. Behind this mask of innocence lies a sly, nimble wit, waiting to trap innocent souls, like Amptennian advisers. She reads and dances, but seeks psychology. It's Penn State to train those eyes, the better you to psychoanalyze.

Activities: Chorus 1, 2; Spring Concert 1, 2; Vespers 1, 2; Usherette 2; Amptennian (co-editor) 3; Stage Crew 3; Intramurals 1; Student Council 3; Art Exhibit 1, 3.

Dennis S. King
Northampton
General

Tall, affable, handsome, humorous, and spirited — as royalty should be — is King. As for his subjects; school, that is; they're absolutely no bother to King. Cars craze him, but King's next phase is wings — the Air Force.

Flourishing, prosperous times,

Elaine Ann Kleinschuster
Moore Township
Academic

Consistently cheerful and captivating, Kleinschuster's constantly composing copy for the Courier, or noting something or other for National Honor. Some other things of note are ice skating, swimming, tennis, and reading. Increasingly noteworthy for Elaine are Moravian College and biology.

Activities: Chorus 1; Vespers 1; Spring Concert 1; Concrete Courier 1, 2, 3; Quill and Scroll 3.

David Charles Kline
Moore Township
Academic

Quiet and composed, pleasant and cheerful, Dave's never at sea about anything — he's learned the secret of total tranquility without Yogi. Speaking of sea — you ought to see his cartoons, mate; he can even draw water. He plays football, runs, swims, hunts, but he hankers for — the sea.

Ronald F. Klipple
Northampton
Academic

Football's been more than a passing fancy for "Klip;" as our quarterback he's been the fancy passer — a real mainstay on the team. This goes for basketball and track as well. As for the sports he doesn't play, he's an ardent rooter; this is no passing fancy. Meanwhile, dentistry has become more than passing fancy.

Activities: Football 1, 2, 3; Basketball 1, 2, 3; Track 1, 2; N Club 3; Amptennian 3; Class Vice President 2, 3.

Linda D. Koch
Northampton
Academic

Pleasant, thoughtful, and sincere, Koch also possesses one of the most beautiful voices in school; she's the mezzo soprano of the girls ensemble. Always ready to lend a helping hand, Linda will never say "No" to anyone in trouble. You can count on her taking her helping hand into her history classes, we're sure.

Activities: Amptennian 1, 3; Intramurals 1; Art Exhibit 1; Mixed Chorus 1, 2, 3; Vespers 1, 2, 3; Spring Concert 1, 2, 3; Girls Ensemble 2, 3; Mixed Ensemble 3.

Geraldine Ann Kocher
Lehigh Township
General

A combination of blonde hair and warm smile — that's Gerry. A truly active girl, you can look for this combination flashing by on the ice or roller rink, or emerging from the pool. How to combine practical nursing with beauty culture is a real problem, but if there's a way, Gerry'll find it.

Activities: Fashion Show 1, 2, 3; Make-up Crew 2, 3.

Larry G. Kocher
Moore Township
Academic

As any true devotee of the out-of-doors, "Butch" spends every moment possible hunting, fishing, or communing with nature. Though happy and carefree, he can be diligent, as he is on his shift at DeeVille. He's maneuvering to shift to the State Police.

Kathleen E. Kohler
Moore Township
Secretarial

Animatedly alive is Kathy, the girl with the infectious giggle. She likes to be on the move, and move she does, buzzing to parks or around Bethlehem, or wrapping herself around steaks at the Blue Lantern. She really moves around on that typewriter as well.

Activities: National Honor Society 3.

Anthony J. Kohlhauser
Northampton
Secretarial

Tony, also known as "Tiger" — by his own modest confession — is the "compleat captivator" of the female heart. He serenades them "sweetly" with his guitar — which we understand he picked up at Bob Kosc's Trading Post — and they promptly swoon. He'll need all the "git" and "tar" he can pick up; he picked the State Police.

Activities: Football 1, 2, 3; Track 1, 2, 3.

Hours of achievement . . .

Gail Kramer
Northampton
Academic

Gail's the gal with ideas for sale, paint brushes that flail, and a nature that's hale. She's in everything, and with piano, dancing, and art for good measure, Gail whips up a storm. She'll modulate into a gentle breeze, we expect, in her classroom.

Activities: Chorus 1, 2, 3; Girls Ensemble 1, 2, 3; Vespers 1, 2, 3; Spring Concert 1, 2, 3; Art Exhibit 1, 2, 3; National Honor Society 2, 3; Intramurals 1; N Club 3; Amptennian 3; Class Secretary 3; District Chorus 3.

Nancy A. Kratzer
Lehigh Township
Academic

Quiet? Sure, but don't let that fool you; Nancy's always ready for fun. It's also easy to see that she enjoys everything she does, from Courier and library work to teaching a Sunday School class. Her interest in children and her willingness to help people have Nancy headed for an elementary classroom.

Activities: Chorus 1; Vespers 1, 3; Spring Concert 1; Concrete Courier 1, 2; Quill & Scroll 3; Library Club 1, 2, 3; Art Exhibit 1, 2; Library Aide 1, 2, 3.

JoAnn Krell
Bath
Secretarial

Quiet but fun-loving, JoAnn's the cute blonde with the instant blush. "Josie" ice skates, babysits, reads, or curls up in front of the T.V. She envisions her curls up from behind a secretary's desk.

Joan Krock
Lehigh Township
Academic

A personality that re-echoes the thunder of Rachmaninoff or the caress of Van Gogh's brush has Joanie; guitars and Russian literature nod agreement. Explosive but serene, she is daisies, a kitten, warm rain, romping children — unique. Recognized for her vibrant literary ability our little Steinbeck's West Chester road bound.

Activities: Chorus 1, 2; Vespers 1, 2; Spring Concert 1, 2; Student Council 2, 3; Amptennian 3; Concrete Courier 3; National Honor Society 3; Quill and Scroll 3.

Christina L. Kugler
Switzerland
Academic

Raven hair, twinkling eyes, sparkling smile — a friend to everyone — these and more characterize Christina, Northampton's first exchange student. Our Swiss Miss swims, skis, plays in the band, enjoys opera, serves as a girl scout leader, dances, and a host of other things. When she completes her teacher preparation, she wants to study in universities all over the world.

Activities: Band 3.

Kathryn S. Kulp
Northampton
Secretarial

A real cutie's Kulp — Kathy, that is. Radiating pep, she never fails to rouse a resounding response to her resonant "Ready-Oh!" Busy? She's in everything, from chorus to gym team, to babysitting, to teaching Sunday School. Anyone as lithesome as she'll have no trouble transitioning to business college to medical secretary.

Activities: Gym Team 1, 2, 3; N Club 2, 3; Basketball Manager 2, 3; Hockey Manager 3; Class Secreparachute. Geronimo!

Thomas J. Lahovski
Northampton
Academic

His share of cheers has been heard by "Ears," the co-captain of our pigskineers. Never far in arrears, he's usually a captain of his peers, such as serving as president of Student Council. On the side, he stacks shelves at Coplay Foodlanes. All these require considerable drill; so does the dental profession — or the Air Force.

Activities: Football 1, 2, 3; Wrestling 1; Track 1, 2, 3; Amptennian 3; Student Council 1, (President) 3; Gym Club 1; National Honor Society 3.

Betty Jane Lakey
Chapman Quarries
Academic

Tall and blithe, Betty Jane gives the impression of being one of those quiet individuals, but can she open up when the occasion arrives! Several of these occasions are presented by the chorus and ensemble, she opens up there; Betty's also busy with church work. Wait 'til she opens up her schoolroom every day.

Activities: Chorus 1, 2, 3; Spring Concert 1, 2, 3; Vespers 1, 2, 3; Ensemble 2, 3. and moments of bereavement . . .

Patricia Ann Lalik
Northampton
General

This is "Trish," the cute dish who's blondish and has eyes that are bluish. She's always learning new dance steps — then trying them out, of course — modeling her own fashions or trying the menu at Miller's diner. Her own menu includes a choice between beauty culture and practical nursing.

Activities: Fashion Show 1, 2, 3; Intramurals 1.

Jendy J. Laub
Northampton
Academic

She's blonde, she's bright-eyed and beautiful, she's Jendy, which also means she's a petite package of pep with a mind to match. Gymnastics, mental or the parallel bars, for example, pose no more problem than the pool to this aquatic acrobat. Neither, we expect, does trading in her stuffed animals for physical therapy.

Activities: Hockey 3; Science Fair 1; Art Exhibit 1; Gym Exhibition 1, 2, 3; Intramurals 1; Fashion Show 3.

Dennis W. Laury
Northampton
Industrial Arts

"Buck" is the last of the legendary Laurys — all fabulous five of them. Like his equally brawny brothers, Laury heaped additional fame upon a famed name and fear to his opponents on the mat. He also works out on the Central school grounds or lifts weights. Buck's waiting to work out on the Big Mat.

Activities: Wrestling 1, 2, 3.

Frank W. Laufik
Northampton
General

Tall, dark, agile; Frank is exactly what you'd expect him to be from this description — a whirlwind on the court. Besides basketball, he's a trackster but likes all sports. He does all right with a brush and palette as well; so well he may just do some dabbling with commercial art.

Activities: Basketball 1, 2, 3; Track 1, 3.

Marlene Ann Leiby
Bath
Secretarial

Both majestic and mannequinish is Marlene, and she's just as talented as she is striking. Some of this talent gets funneled into painting, some to Girl Scouts, some to National Honor, our publications, the stage — the eating talent goes to Hillside. Ever impeccable, she'll do an impeccable job of teaching or bookkeeping.

Activities: Concrete Courier 3; Junior Speaking Contest 2; Amptennian 3; Art Exhibit 2; National Honor Society 3.

Linda E. Leindecker
Northampton
Secretarial

Carefree and talkative, that's "Leiny." Constantly on the go, she can be found pounding a typewriter for Courier and Amptennian or just having fun with the gang. This honor student is sure to be a success as an airline stewardess or a secretary.

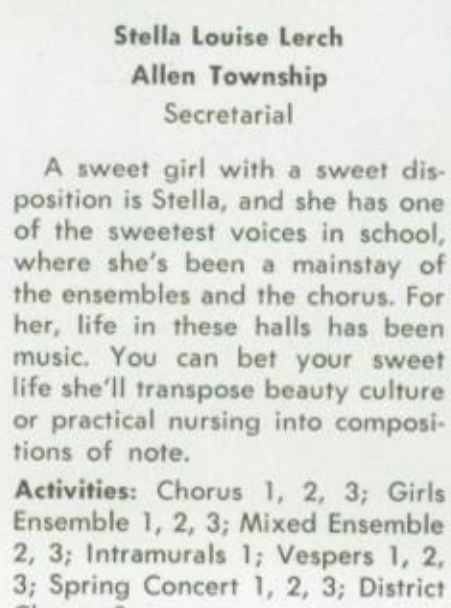

Activities: Chorus 1; Vespers 1; Spring Concert 1; Intramurals 1; Concrete Courier 2, 3; Amptennian 3; Quill and Scroll 3; National Honor Society 3.

David Lerch
Northampton
Academic

Dashing, determined, and daring is Dave, the lad with plenty of drive. His animated blond head is everywhere — at Lentz's, in the pool, wrapped around a hamburger at Hillside, or behind the shotput. A degree is his determination, and he's driving for college.

Activities: N Club 3; Track 2, 3; Art Exhibit 2.

Stella Louise Lerch
Allen Township
Secretarial

A sweet girl with a sweet disposition is Stella, and she has one of the sweetest voices in school, where she's been a mainstay of the ensembles and the chorus. For her, life in these halls has been music. You can bet your sweet life she'll transpose beauty culture or practical nursing into compositions of note.

Activities: Chorus 1, 2, 3; Girls Ensemble 1, 2, 3; Mixed Ensemble 2, 3; Intramurals 1; Vespers 1, 2, 3; Spring Concert 1, 2, 3; District Chorus 3.

Raymond H. Lindenmoyer
Allen Township
General

"Hey, look at this penny!" Without looking you know it's Pinky, our cognizant coin collector, on the scent of a cent. He's already collected a commendable character and he's constantly contributing it to the Youth Fellowship and the Boy Scouts. What kind of a career he'll collect, though, is currently conjecture.

Activities: Science Fair 1.

Brian D. Lloyd
Lehigh Township
Academic

Lackadaisical and light-hearted, "Lloyd" is the laughing boy of the class. This, of course, deepens his dimples and these, together with his curly locks, makes him about the cutest wrestler on the team. He's either floating in his father's restaurant or floating around Palmerton in the Ford. He'd like to float from the sky by parachute. Geronimo.

Activities: Wrestling 1, 2, 3; Football 1; Track 1; Gym Club 1; Class Vice President 1; Class Treasurer 2.

Karen R. Long
Bath
Secretarial

One of our delightful, diminutive damsels is Karen, who's as cute as they come. She has "Jeanie's" light-brown hair, and Civil War eyes: blue-gray. With these she wars on helpless males during dates. She also likes reading, movies, and business offices.

Activities: Intramurals 1.

F. Keith Longenbach
Northampton
Academic

With dark hair, dark eyes and dark suit, Keith must've been a very proper Congressional page. From page he's since turned to wrestling, but the urbanity he learned takes him to the golf links regularly. He's also learned the delights of diplomacy enough to take the stump to college; then to the people.

Activities: Wrestling 1, 2, 3; Science Club 1.

Virginia Jane Mackes
Point Phillips
General

Petite and perky, Ginny's a confirmed brunette whose sunny smile is a standard greeting for everyone. An all-around outdoor lover, she swims in the summertime and skates in the wintertime. Of a night, she babysits, listens to records, or goes to Klipple's store. For what's in store for Ginny, you guess.

Activities: Future Homemakers of America 2.

Leona Mann
Lehigh Township
Secretarial

Light-hearted and lively, Leona's always ready for a lark. For one with such an airy personality, it is only natural she should be interested in music; she sings airs in the chorus and in her church choir. There are also other church activities and — dancing. It'll be more air after the Humboldt Institute and the airlines.

Activities: Chorus 1, 2, 3; Vespers 1, 2, 3; Spring Concert 1, 2, 3; Intramurals 1.

Mary Ann Marakovits
Northampton
Secretarial

Merry and mannerly match Mary right down to the last "M," which could be either matchless or Marakovits. Her passions are plentiful: movies, dancing, parties, records, going places with the girls, and — National Honor Society. Mary's moment of great decision is here: school or secretary.

Activities: National Honor Society 2, 3; N Club 3; Intramurals 1; Amptennian 3.

Loretta Marcks
Northampton
Secretarial

Heaven help the male population of America if the movies ever discover Loretta; she'll pulverize 'em with her blonde hair and green eyes. Furthermore, she's setting the stage now at the Hilltop, the Diner, Hillside, and Ritz. It could be she's setting her stage for social work as well.

Activities: Amptennian 3; Intramurals 1.

William A. E. Marencik Jr.
Northampton
General

One of the strong, silent — and we might add suave and smooth besides — type is Bill. A man of action rather than words, you ought to see him at the Good Steer handling a steak, or tying flies, working on engines, model cars, water skiing, hunting or fishing, for that matter. Blue's his favorite color, whether on his paintbrush, uniform, or in the water.

Carolyn J. Marsh
Bath
Academic

Student Morning Call correspondent, Courier editor, National Honor Society secretary; these are but a few of Carolyn's accomplishments. She's interested in everything from Volkswagens to cats, from German pen pals to Penn State and German.

Activities: Concrete Courier 1, 2, (Editor) 3; German Club 1; Library Club 1, 2; Library Aide 1, 2, 3; Vespers 1, 3; National Honor Society 2, 3; Student Council 2; Amptennian 3; Senior Class Play 3; Quill and Scroll 3; Intramurals 1; Art Exhibit 1, 2.

Nancy E. Marsh
Moore Township
Secretarial

Shining brown hair surrounding a sincere smile and pervaded by a perky personality; these are the nuances of Nancy, who never says, "No." That is, she never says "No" to her 4-H Club, the Girl Scouts, or — dancing at the Community Center or a steak at Hillside. Her response will be the same to IBM School or that desk.

Activities: Chorus 1; Vespers 1; Spring Concert 1; Intramurals 1; Concrete Courier 2, 3; Amptennian 3; Art Exhibit 2, 3; Quill and Scroll 3.

Alicia E. Marth
East Allen Township
Secretarial

"Ally's" warm smile, topped by a crown of glowing red hair, makes her a definite standout. You can't miss her, even in a crowd. An all-around girl, she goes for sports, though you'll find her working hard in the library, or at National Honor Society. It seems she goes for bookkeeping, too.

Activities: Chorus 1; National Honor Society 2, 3; Library Club 3; Intramurals 1; Vespers 1; Spring Concert 1.

Paul Marth
Northampton
General

He's a well-mannered guy with a good sense of humor, he peers at you from frank, blue eyes, and he's frank, is Paul. He's also "Foyte;" he likes to go hunting, sit on his favorite neighborhood porch of a summer night and play guard on the football team. He wants to guard his country — from Tripoli or even heaven.

Activities: Football 1, 2, 3; Track 1.

Sandra A. Marth
Seemsville
Secretarial

One of the sunniest, smilingest, servingest students we have is Sandy. She crams sports, Courier, Amptennian, and a lot of extra jobs into a day, plus sewing, painting, and dancing at the Community Center. A slick secretary? Sure.

Activities: Intramurals 1; Chorus 1; Vespers 1; Spring Concert 1; Concrete Courier 2, 3; Library Club 2, 3; Art Exhibit 2, 3; Library Aide 2, 3; Make-up Crew 2, 3; National Honor Society 2, 3; Amptennian 3; N Club 3; Quill and Scroll (President) 3.

Patricia Ann Martin
Allen Township
Secretarial

Take one pretty girl; add blonde hair, a cute smile, and presto; there's Pat. Where is she? Working at Hillside, horseback riding, reading at home, or typing her church's Youth Fellowship minutes. Where will she be? In business school or behind a secretary's desk, of course.

Activities: Fashion Show 1; Intramurals 1; Amptennian 3; Senior Class Play 3.

Andrew Martnick
Northampton
Academic

One of the most unconcerned fellows in the class is Martnick. Better known as "Angel," he's so unconcerned he's a natural "Apathetic Angel." He's a smiling angel when he's in his bronze bomb or at Sam's gas station. He'll need practice for a State Trooper's imperturbability.

Activities: Wrestling 1, 2.

Pressing onward,

Loretta A. Mast
Moore Township
Academic

Loretta is full of the unexpected. She appears to be coy and quiet, but all you have to do is wind her up and listen to her go. Then there's that nickname, "Lizard." Who else would like to curl up with a good book — or go to the races? Loretta's all wound up about her less fortunate fellow man; she's winding up for St. Luke's and an R. N.

Activities: Tri-Hi-Y 2; Usherette 3.

John Michael Mauser
Allen Township
Academic

Despite his peaceful appearance, "Mouse" is the "Mighty Mouse" of the class. A top trackster and cheerleader both, he's a serious student, but when he's most preoccupied, he slips you a "mickey," he's got hunting and fishing on the brain. We hear "Mouse" couldn't resist the cheese; teaching's got him trapped.

Activities: Science Club 1; Track 1, 2, 3; N Club 3.

John McCandless
Moore Township
Academic

There's nothing that stands out more than red hair — flaming red — with freckles to match, and "Pep" has 'em. He has the pep to wrestle, too; on the mats or with the Ford. Swimming and hunting are a couple of pursuits requiring pep; he does these. He says he has the pep to pursue teaching.

Activities: Wrestling 1, 2, 3; Cheer Leader 3; Student Council 2.

Linda Ellen McCafferty
Lehigh Township
General

She's quiet, she's reserved, but Linda let's the gang know when she's around. She has a gift for sewing her own clothes; in this she excels. Linda reads, swims, plays badminton, and is looking forward to studying costume and design at Kutztown.

Activities: Fashion Show 1, 2, 3.

Peter H. McMurry
Lehigh Township
Academic

Behind the mask of blue-eyed, mild-mannered innocence lies the real "Pete" and the touch of genius. Bach or Basie — he blows 'em on his trombone, or sings a beautiful baritone; the same with everything else. His finale to these is sad, but hark to his overture to medicine.

Activities: Chorus 1, 2, 3; Band 1, 2, 3; Boys Octet 1, 2, 3; Dance Band 1, 2, 3; Mixed Ensemble 2, 3; National Honor Society 2, (President) 3; Junior Speaking Contest 2; Class Treasurer 3; Wrestling 2.

Annette Meckes
Moore Township
Academic

Attractive, animated, and amiable, Annette applies herself to many activities, but her main absorption seems to be F.H.A., better known as the "tender trap." Meanwhile, she works at Dee-Ville, skates, and dashes from Amptennian to N Club to Meteorology to F.H.A. Speaking of F.H.A., beware of the tender trap.

Activities: Chorus 1; Vespers 1; Spring Concert 1; Drama Club 2; Meteorology 2, 3; Amptennian 3; N Club 3; F.H.A. 3.

Robert Meckes
Pennsville
Academic

Bob's always good for a story — usually the tall variety — and usually accompanied by a gusty guffaw. He plays baseball, basketball, and football for enjoyment. That goes for circulating around the drags and the counters at Eddie's Market. Bob wants to bobtail heads — as Barber Bob.

Activities: Debate Club 2; Baseball 1, 2.

Ronald R. Meixsell
East Allen Township
Academic

Even-tempered, well-mannered, and soft-spoken, Ronnie generally carries an air of confidence on his blond countenance. A 4-H president and Luther League advisor, he plays football and baseball, rides, sings in the chorus, and you ought to see him drive. He'll drive home that math degree, too.

Activities: Chorus 1, 2, 3; Vespers 1, 2, 3; Spring Concert 1, 2, 3.

Meeting the goal,

Veronica H. Mertz
Northampton
Secretarial

Ever hear the "whoosh" of a ball dropping through the basket — clean? Ronnie does it all the time, and if it isn't basketball, it's hockey, or the parallel bars, or horseback riding, or some other sport. You see this blue-eyed, smiling blonde behind the counter at Hillside, sometimes; you might just see her there in a government office.

Activities: Gym Team 1, 2, 3; Intramurals 1; N Club 3; Amptenian 3; Girls' Basketball 2, (co-captain) 3; Hockey (co-captain) 3; Gym Exhibition 1, 2, 3.

George E. Milander
Klecknersville
Secretarial

George is one of the calmer components of the class male element, but don't mistake his quiet for quiescence; he goes — for fun as much as anybody. He also goes for working at DeeVile and on cars, for hunting and fishing. Blue seems to be his attraction — like the Blue Lantern, or — Marine Corps blues.

Activities: Wrestling 2.

Sandra J. Milisits
Northampton
Secretarial

Anyone for sports? You won't have to call twice, Sandy'll come bouncing in to the first, like she dribbles basketball, swings on the parallel bars, lams back a lob on the court. She reads too; and after cosmetology school, she'll put bounce into milady's hair.

Activities: Gym Club 1, 2, 3; Gym Exhibition 1, 2, 3; Fashion Show 1; Basketball 2, 3.

Frank Miletics
Northampton
Academic

His response may be inveterably "negative," but his personality is definitely positive. Frank, alias "Shnoz," with deep-set, dark eyes and a definite drawl, can be found on the gridiron or at Hillside. Soon he'll be found at junior college or in a State police uniform.

Activities: Football 1, 2, 3; Track 1.

Dale Miller
Pennsville
General

Miller is one of the "mitier" funsters in the class; but when it comes to cars, he's one of the mightiest mites anywhere. A jeep jokester too, his whole life is cars; he tunes, fixes, drives, rebuilds 'em — in his garage. Greasy fingers are his fate.

Dawn A. Miller
Northampton
Secretarial

There's an old song that goes, "And the Dawn comes up like thunder" — and so does Dawn. The original "sound-off girl," you ought to hear her tooting her trumpet, the pink DeSoto's horn, or gyrating from a joke. Look for her in Bath, at Lou's, or in that office she talks about.

Activities: Band 1, 2, 3.

Lucy Jane Miller
Northampton
Academic

One look at Lucy and one changes to liquid. But when she pours on her proficiency, she's positively petrifying. As an immaculate majorette, fronting the band, caressing the console of the organ, or coy as a Junior Miss contestant, she's a knockout. In music Lucy can't miss.

Activities: Chorus 1, 2, 3; Vespers 1, 2, 3; Spring Concert 1, 2, 3; Majorette 1, 2, (Drum) 3.

Rita Miller
Moore Township
Secretarial

The sounds of church music on the piano or organ attune with a sweet soprano — these are the sounds of Rita. As for Rita herself, you could include anything from directing her choir, Youth Fellowship, reading, to Junior Miss contestant, and swimming at the Pink Cloud. She's trying to decide between a desk or an organ.

Activities: Chorus 1; Ensemble 1; Debate Club 2; Fashion Show 1; Senior Class Play 3.

Reaping the blessings . . .

Alice Mills
East Allen Township
Academic

Airy, ardent, and animated, "Al" — our atomic amazon — howls happily around the place like a hilarious halfpint hurricane. She sings, teaches Sunday school, and works on Amptennian, does this National Honor Society member. Business school and that firm will never be the same after she gives them the business.

Activities: Amptennian 1, 3; Vespers 1, 2; Spring Concert 1, 2; Senior Class Play 3; National Honor Society 3.

Sandra Minnich
Northampton
General

What's a shutterbug? That's easy; Sandy's one; especially when she has that glassy-eyed robot-like face and seems to be ticking. It's not her, really; not that she doesn't tick, but it's her movie camera ticking. Sandy's loads of fun all the time, and in the summer she's a waterbug as well. We can't picture any more, and that bugs us.

Activities: Library Aide 1, 2, 3; Fashion Show 1, 3.

Lillian Mirro
Moore Township
Academic

Laughing, likeable, and lively, Lillie and literature are inseparable. Look out, lest you're lulled by Lil; she has a prolific, powerful, puncturing pen. She's also a menace to mankind in her MG; beware when she's barreling to DeeVille. Kutztown and English will never recover from this rascal.

Activities: Chorus 1; Vespers 1; Spring Concert 1; Concrete Courier 1; N Club 2, 3; Amptennian 3; Art Exhibit 1, 2; Usherette 1, 2; Intramurals 1.

Deborah Mohr
Lehigh Township
General

Laughing and lively, Debbie has eyes that dance with a bit o' the devil in them. Look out if little Miss Mischief ever turns 'em on you. She makes 'em sizzle at the Slatington Steak house, or — she may fry you from the car that's cruising by. However, the time has come to change from culinary to cosmetology; for Debbie too.

Activities: Gym Club 2, 3; Fashion Show 1, 2.

Kathleen Mohry
Lehigh Township
Academic

"Kass" runs a uniform pattern; she's sunny and smiling, and she's a tireless talker. She does a lot of reading, and she's found at the Northampton Hospital in a candy striper's uniform. She's about to be found at the Allentown Hospital changing from stripes to blue to white, but still uniform.

Activities: Concrete Courier 1, 2, 3; Library Aide 1, 2, 3; Library Club 2, 3; Make-up Crew 2, 3; N Club 3.

Dennis Morgan
Northampton
General

Dennis is definitely no menace; he's "Moose." He's tall, husky, and handsome, and equally as easy-going and good-natured. You often find him at Wolfer's gas station, working on cars, or hunting. He's hunting a blue uniform that may put Moose on the Moon.

Activities: Football 1, 2, 3; Track 1, 2, 3; Gym Club 2, 3; N Club 3; Wrestling 1.

Curtis Moser
Bath
General

That spectre in the wheeled refugee from an auto graveyard isn't a space character — it's Curt. Don't be fooled by the hair, or boots, or trousers; these are only typical of his associates and haunts: Bath pool room, Lou's, etc. Surprise — work at Sunrise?

Janice L. Neetz
Northampton
Secretarial

Usually she's "small but mighty," but occasionally Neetz throws in a bit of "naughty but nice" for good measure. Janice is one of our super-secretaries; her typing and shorthand are as hot as that hot Plymouth she drives. As neat as they come, Neetz needs something to knead neatly — a typewriter or coiffure.

Activities: Library Club 2, 3; Amptennian 3; Intramurals 1; Hockey 3.

Bruce W. Newhard
Northampton
General

Bruce is one of the most relaxed persons you've ever seen. If he were any more relaxed, he'd be collapsed. There are two things, though, that rouse him of his studied lethargy: girls and gym team. Otherwise, he hangs out at Presto's. Presto, the Navy!

Activities: Lighting Crew 1; Band 1; Gym Club 1, 2, 3; Wrestling 1, 2; Track 1.

Jean Newhard
Northampton
Academic

"Jeanie with the light brown hair" is a song; our Jeanie fits the description, except the hair is shimmering and her eyes sparkle. "News" knows every inch of the library and can tell you everything about iceskating. In fact, she likes to talk so much she's practicing "Number, please."

Activities: German Club 1; Library Club 1, 2, 3; Library Aide 1, 2, 3.

Robert J. Nikisher
Lehigh Township
General

"Reds" is one of the fellows who's slightly on the rascally side, mostly because of his riot-wreaking repartee. As nonchalant as a noodle, Nick goes hunting, works on cars, or goes over to Lloyd's with the Chevy. He has heard of some of the heavies the Air Force has and would like to work on them.

Pat C. Nissley
Bath
Academic

Perky, pleasant, and pertinent, Pat has a propensity for lending a helping hand. She also hits high C or the honor roll with the greatest of ease, and that helping hand is evidenced by Girl Scout work. Journalism maybe, but you have to write in the Peace Corps too.

Activities: Chorus 1, 2, 3; Vespers 1, 2, 3; Spring Concert 1, 2, 3; Art Exhibit 1; National Honor Society 3; Amptennian 1, 3; Student Council 3.

Charles Nordquist
Moore Township
Academic

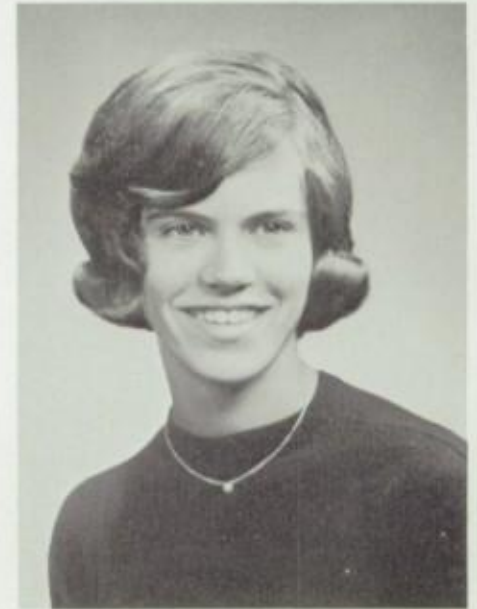

Everything is a challenge to Charlie, and Charlie challenges everything — with an infectious chuckle. A combination athlete and honor student, he defends himself vigorously by brain or brawn, as the occasion demands, and he generally wins. Youth for Christ challenges him as well, as does Lehigh and chemical engineering.

Activities: Wrestling 2, 3; Track 2; Amptennian 3; National Honor Society 3.

Linda Oberly
Allen Township
Academic

"Oops!" Excuse me, it's not "oops;" it's "Obs." "Obs" isn't obstinate or obdurate; she overflows with energy, good nature, and helpfulness. "Obs" leads the Young People's group of her church, teaches Sunday School, and was a stalwart on our hockey team. Look for R.N. "Obs" in OB or OR.

Activities: Chorus 1, 2; Vespers 1, 2; Spring Concert 1, 2; Library Club 3; Amptennian 3; Hockey 3.

Lynne Joy O'Brien
Northampton
General

Lynne's a lass who's always lively and laughing — or giving out with her crazy giggle, like all over Hillside. She cooks, sews, babysits, sings, and thinks up jokes, and everybody calls her "Ducky." This is the same impression "Ducky" gets of the idea of being a receptionist.

Activities: Fashion Show 1, 2, 3.

Jean Marie Onkotz
Moore Township
Secretarial

There are two sides to Jeanie's nature; one is quiet and gentle, the other is actively athletic. On the one hand, she's demure and ladylike; on the other, she's a ball of fire on the hockey field, ice skates, swimming, or on horseback. She has a way with pets, and if you ask us, she'll have a way with that office.

Activities: Chorus 1; Vespers 1; Spring Concert 1; Hockey 3.

Never an untolerated step backward.

Charlotte M. Oplinger
Danielsville
General

Cordial, cheerful, companionable; these are the characteristics that come to mind when we think of Charlotte. In Charlotte there is something of the artist, and she expresses this ability sometimes with a brush, sometimes with a needle. What she is needling with her stitches hasn't been clearly patterned yet.

Activities: Fashion Show 3.

Roger L. Pagotto
Lehigh Township
Academic

You've heard of "Roger Dodger," but this Roger doesn't Dodge — he Fords. "The Big R" carries a lot of weight wherever he goes; he's our star weight lifter. Another one of the dragsters and car-fixers, "R" hangs out with the DeVille Dukes, at Lloyd's, or Edgemont. It's carrying his weight to Kutztown for "Big R" — and more 3R's.

Paulette Paukovits
Northampton
Secretarial

Speaking of brunettes, here's a black-eyed, black-haired bundle of beauty and boisterousness; and she has a Chevy to match — black, of course. Well-groomed, Paulette rides horseback, skates, dances, or grooms the Chevy and her German Shepherd. It could be she'll be grooming your hair.

Activities: Intramurals 1; Tri-Hi-Y 2.

Lucille Person
Moore Township
General

She's little, she's likeable, she's Lucy; she wins your friendship and confidence at sight. Because she has insight she's always doing things for others; with brush and needle she also transmits them to paper and cloth. In her sight is Florence Nightingale's lamp, and she's keeping it in sight.

Activities: Fashion Show 1, 2, 3.

Carol S. Peters
Lehigh Township
Secretarial

Blue-eyed redheads usually have either contagiously cheerful characters or terrible tempers. In the case of Carol, her constant chuckle is a clear-cut clue. She never loses it, even when playing basketball, writing, reading, or dancing. Neither will she chuck the chuckle when she decides on writing or typing.

Activities: Library Aide 1; Amp-tennian 3; Concrete Courier 3; Intramurals 1.

Sue Peters
Pennsville
Secretarial

Sue's "Sam," and "Sam's" Sue. See? No, she's not your uncle, but she gets around like him. Usually Sam's patrolling Main Street or warming a seat at Hilltop, although at times does write letters. It could be that Peters is practicing to warm that secretary's seat and patrol the office.

Activities: Tri-Hi-Y 2; Fashion Show 3.

Marilyn Petrick
Lehigh Township
General

Her short brown hair and blue eyes give Marilyn a perfect mask for her sly wit. At times she exposes it with a bit of poetry, at other times she feeds it with a good book or one of the specialties at the Slatington steak house. You're bound to see more of Marilyn, either in your restaurant or salon.

Activities: Chorus 1; Vespers 1; Spring Concert 1; Stage Crew 2; Library Club 2, 3; Future Homemakers of America 2, 3; Tri-Hi-Y 2.

Keith Allen Piescienski
Northampton
Secretarial

Talkative, lanky, laughing — all these are Keith. He's a good scout, too; in fact, an Eagle. Cars and sports are the centers of his world; he gravitates to Sam's service station and Hillside. Given enough impetus, he may gravitate toward college and the business world.

Activities: Track 1, 2; Wrestling 2.

"Tall oaks . . .

Linda M. Praetorius
Lehigh Township
Academic

There she is, straight-faced, strutting, swashbuckling, sword stabbing the air, the Sergeant of the Color Guard: Linda. Out of uniform, "Lynn's" a very lively, lilting lass who sews, reads, swims, sings, and devours steaks at Hillside. She's preparing for many lively, little lads and lassies who'll devour learning in her classes.

Activities: Color Guard 1, 2, (Sergeant) 3; Chorus 1, 2, 3; Vespers 1, 2, 3; Spring Concert 1, 2, 3; Concrete Courier 1; Art Exhibit 2; Intramurals 1; Usherette 2, 3.

Carol Radcliffe
Moore Township
Secretarial

No one exhibits the "good to be alive" feeling quite as enthusiastically as Carol, our laughing blonde. Better known as "Skinny," she's taking in the Nazareth and Bethlehem stock car races, writing letters, reading, or at the movies. Maybe she's racing for a desk with a business school detour.

Activities: Fashion Show 1; Drama Club 2; Future Homemakers of America 3.

Nancy E. Rau
Northampton
Academic

If there's an Annie Oakley in our school, it's Rau, the beautiful blonde who's always toting a rifle 'round the halls. A captivating color guard, she's also been known to shoot fish, adores eating, and has a special knack for getting flat tires on the '56 Hudson. She wants the special knack needed for nursing.

Activities: Chorus 1; Spring Concert 1; Vespers 1; Color Guard 1, 2, 3; Amptennian 3; N Club 2; Fashion Show 3; Usherette 3; Art Exhibit 2.

Mary C. Rank
Northampton
Secretarial

Brown eyes brimming with laughter has Mary, plus the merry smile and vivacious nature to go with them. She's always doing something, and always does it well, whether playing sports, singing in the chorus, or taking photographs. She'll do just as well in business college and that office.

Activities: Student Council 1; Intramurals 1; Girls Basketball 2, 3; Hockey 3; Chorus 1, 2, 3; Vespers 1, 2, 3; Spring Concert 1, 2, 3.

Bruce C. Rayden
Bath
Academic

Bruce and basketball have become bosom buddies, so much so that Rayden's generally running — around the court. You see him running — record hops — occasionally, and he's an avid disc fan. No shrinking violet, Rayden relaxes by talking to girls. It may be more relaxation, but he talks about college and professional ball too.

Activities: Basketball 2, 3.

Carol Reddinger
East Allen Township
Secretarial

Carol's pleasing smile and sparkling personality are like magnetic projections. They seem to attract everyone to her, no matter where she goes; and she does get around with her car, especially to sports events. Another of her projections is seeking the relative magnetic attraction of beauty culture and typewriters.

Activities: Intramurals 1.

Linda L. Rehrig
Treichlers
Secretarial

Crowned by halo-highlighted hair, brunette of course, Linda exudes exhilaration; she has the gift of gay repartee to boot. In season, Linda skates, bowls, and swims; it's oftentimes her wont to enjoy a stroll along the picturesque setting of the canal in her native Treichlers. What a combination to bring into a secretary's office.

Activities: Library Club 1, 2, 3; Intramurals 1.

Clayton A. Reimer
Lehigh Township
General

Hunting for Clayton? He might be hunting too; if not, look for him around the stock car tracks. If he's not at the races, track him to the Blue Lantern; he's often there hunting food. We hear he's on the trail of a uniform — in the Army.

Activities: Meteorology Club 2.

... from little acorns grow."

Eric S. Reinert
Lehigh Township
Academic

Ever notice the super lighting effects at school activities? They are engineered by Eric. Everything this pleasant, courteous, smiling, bespectacled lad does is of the best and he always engineers his best. This even applies to the Slate Bowl, or to sports afield. He's engineering between Penn State and Lafayette.

Activities: Lighting Crew 1, 2, 3; Vespers 1, 2, 3; Track 1.

Larry Reitz
Lehigh Township
General

There are many people who have a problem projecting themselves, but this is not the case with Larry. He projects projector cases all over the school for the Projection Club, and always seems to be hurriedly projecting himself to class, or into impromptu games. As for projection for himself, how do you conjecture a projection?

Activities: Chorus 1; Projectionist Club 1, 2, 3.

Wayne Lee Remaly
East Allen Township
General

You would expect any pure nimrod, devotee of Walton, or nature lover to be pleasant, courteous, and generous. Wayne is no exception, except for several added interests: football and his Dodge. A potential printing pro, he's pressing for Williamsport Tech, then his press.

Activities: Student Council 2; Wrestling 3; Football 1, 2, 3.

Audrey Rummel
Northampton
Secretarial

Dark eyes, dark hair, and dark complexion definitely determine Audrey to be a true brunette. Add her lightsome laughter and scintillating sparkle, and she becomes a triple threat in 3D — whether dancing, driving, or divulging. Her fourth dimension is didactic — business school.

Activities: Gym Club 1, 2, 3, N Club 3; Vespers 1; Intramurals 1; Hockey 3; Usherette 2.

Donald Renner
Lehigh Township
General

One of the friendliest guys we know, Don's also daring and dexterous, with a little bit of devilishness thrown in. He uses his dexterity in fixing cars and working at DeeVille; the remainder when he's carousing with the gang at Lloyd's. These qualities are perfect for the armed forces; so is Don.

Activities: Band 1, 2; Wrestling 1, 2.

Gary Lee Reph
Lehigh Township
General

To the dark hair and matching glasses, Gary adds a studied silent smile and, at times, a glib flow of words. He was formerly literally "found" in the observatory and is also formerly of the projection room. A self-styled Don Juan, he combed the halls to practice combing the territory to practice combing milady's tresses.

Activities: Projectionist Club 2, 3.

Robert S. Reph
Lehigh Township
General

Reph says the one thing he likes to do the most is sleep. Don't take that too literally, though, this sleeper is a practical joker. He does have several non-nap pursuits like hunting, fishing, and lounging at the Danielsville Rod and Gun Club. We understand the Marines have an excellent cure for coma.

Activities: Meteorology Club 2, 3.

Dennis D. Rice
Bath
Academic

That glassy-eyed monster staring at you isn't really a menace, it's just Dennis aiming his camera. "Flash" and his camera are not only inseparable; they're indispensable — the life blood of the Photo Club. Flash also dabbles in electronics; with his sights on Penn State he's shooting for much more than dabbling.

Activities: Photo Club 1, 2, 3; Amptennian 3.

William D. Richie
Northampton
General

Bill, our strong, muscular rascal, adds a hefty bicep to school sports from football to physical fitness. On the outside he's a-field hunting or fishing, or hanging around one of the local dens of iniquity. Apparently this is to learn the vicissitudes of life firsthand to be a better state policeman.

Activities: Gym Club 1, 2, 3; N Club 3; Football 1, 2, 3; Wrestling 1, 2, 3; Track 1; Gym Exhibition 1, 2, 3.

Paul Rodgers
Allen Township
General

Paul is the possessor of a pleasing personality, all of which places him in the position of being a pal to all. He's also usually broke because he leaves his resources at the Swift Arrow. This means he's very seldom hungry. Otherwise he reloads shells or just drives around. He might drive around to the Navy recruiter and do some real reloading.

Frank James Ross
Allen Township
Secretarial

There's one thought that seems to be uppermost in Frank's mind at all times; it's fun, and he has the girls laughing constantly. Strange as it seems, he likes to talk to girls too, though he shares this pleasure with reading hot rod magazines and driving around. He just might share his talents with some company's books.

Mark C. Roth
Moore Township
Academic

Earnest and sincere, Mark is usually one of our more reserved students; he has his lighter side, though. Everything he does seems to have a legal association, whether judging 4-H projects, before the Luther League, or stoutly defending Fords at the Nazareth Hilltop. He'll defend you in court before too long.

Activities: Chorus 1; Vespers 1; Spring Concert 1; Art Exhibit 2.

Dolores Jean Rudelitsch
Lehigh Township
Academic

Blonde hair, blue eyes, plenty of effervescence, the power of self-expression; "Do-Do" has all these, and more. If you don't find her skating at Edgemont, look for her in church, or try the nearest piano. You might keep Allentown Hospital in mind as well; your clue's a starched cap 'n' apron.

Activities: Chorus 1, 2, 3; Junior Speaking Contest (second place) 2; Spring Concert 1, 2, 3; Vespers 1, 2, 3.

Peter J. Rumsey
Northampton
Academic

Urbane and erudite, Pete came to us recently, by way of forty-six other states, to easily collect the crown for culture. He collects stamps and coins too, and he's collected honors in schools across the nation. Judging from this, he'll collect that coveted Ph.D. in math as well.

Activities: Basketball 3.

Craig St. James
Northampton
Industrial Arts

"Satch" came to us from up-state New York complete with drums, toms, socks, sizzles, fast fingers, and a searing assortment of loud jackets; pounded out his paradiddles, and retired Ringo to his pad. A new weight-lifting, skiing, short-haired "Starr" was born. Satch's star's on the rise — via college — to stage or studio.

Activities: Band 3; Dance Band 3.

Cathleen M. Samuels
Moore Township
Secretarial

Pleasant, personable, and perky, Cathy is one of those persons whose company is in the desired category. A real "do-gooder," she's always busy in the library or on Amptennian, reading, sewing, playing the organ. Her nimble fingers also caress typewriter keys; this is for her.

Activities: Library Club 1, 2, 3; Library Aide 1, 2, 3; Amptennian 3; Senior Class Play 3.

We are the harvest . . .

John Sawka Jr.
Northampton
Academic

His friends call John "Butch," and everybody's his friend. He's easy-going, sincere, and conscientious — and a barrel of fun with it all. He goes for sports, but with Butch bowling's best, and he's usually at Hampton Lanes. He wants to try the sea lanes after the ivy lanes.

Activities: Track 1, 2.

Larry R. Saylor
Allen Township
General

Larry has exactly three burning desires; they're cars, cars, and more cars. As a matter of fact he's our top nominee for the "car crazy" crown. When he takes his girl out, it's to the stock car races or drags; otherwise he's at Steve's service station. He plans to jockey a tractor-trailer. Happy motoring!

Stephen M. Sayuk
Northampton
Academic

Being sincere and studious doesn't mean Steve misses any fun; he's a real sport. Speaking of sports, he's successfully mixed football, baseball, and scholarship by attaining National Honor Society. He does a lot of fishing in season. Now it's the season for him to fish for slide rules and engineering tables.

Activities: Football 1, 2; Baseball 1, 2, 3; Student Council 1; Amptennian 3; National Honor Society 3.

Phyllis R. Schaeffer
Moore Township
Secretarial

If you saw a vision of blue eyes and flaming hair crowning a merry face, what would you think? That's what we think too — about "Phyl." You can tell what she thinks about from what she does — write letters, collect stamps and coins, take walks. She also thinks about being a waitress or a secretary.

Activities: Library Club 1.

Chris L. Schearer
Lehigh Township
Academic

There are still a few examples of the tall, strong, quiet type; Chris is one of these. He toots his own horn, though — in the band — and is a charter member of the basketball band. Sometimes he puts the horn down to play sports or work on the lighting and stage crew. He hopes he's at the stage where his way to college will be lighted.

Activities: Band 1, 2, 3; Lighting Crew 2, 3; Stage Crew 2, 3.

Susan R. Schlegel
Moore Township
Academic

Small, sprightly, and sunny, Susy seldom strolls. When she's in motion, which is mostly, she romps — especially around Nazareth with her friends. During her more sedate spells, Susy relaxes with a good book, plays the piano, or listens to folk music. She's a most charming and gracious hostess too, as she'll be in the "wild blue yonder."

Activities: Chorus 1, 2; Vespers 1, 2; Spring Concert 1, 2; Amptennian 3; Library Aide 3; Library Club (President) 3.

Anne A. Schmoyer
East Allen Township
Academic

What sweet innocence with her head buried in studies! "Bang," go the books, and Annie really moves — dances, parties, dates — this social butterfly has a dual personality. Her kindergarten kiddies will have to say, "WOW," when in walks Miss Schmoyer.

Activities: Chorus 1; Vespers 1; Spring Concert 1; Art Exhibit 1, 2, 3.

Rita Ann Schneider
Northampton
Secretarial

Hale, hearty, and happy, Rita's right there when it comes to activity, especially on the uneven parallel bars. She did just as well as a charter member of the hockey team; besides you ought to see her at the swimming pool or on the tennis court. We've seen her in fashion shows and art exhibits; you might see her most anywhere.

Activities: Gym Club 1, 2, 3; Hockey 3; Fashion Show 1; Art Exhibit 2, 3; Intramurals 1; Amptennian 3.

Shirley Schweitzer
Allen Township
Secretarial

Shades of Belle Starr! Have you ever been confronted by a smiling, demure brunette in jeans and boots, sporting a rifle? This outdoors lover hunts, fishes, and teaches Bible School. She's narrowed her sights to a desk or the armed forces. Guess the target.

Activities: Intramurals 1.

Frank P. Seier
Moore Township
General

Frank definitely is one of the "strong, silent type." This, together with his totally pleasant personality makes his companionship especially desirable. His whole out of school world of activity is centered on his '55 Ford and an occasional movie at the R. 45 Drive-In theatre.

Dennis P. Shoemaker
Cherryville
General

Denny should've been nicknamed "Streak;" he has so many. He has a streak of mischief and one for fun. He streaks to the stars in Meteorology Club, to the Blue Mountain Rest for his restful streak. Sometimes he exhibits a streak for model cars or reading. He might be a blue streak — in the Air Force.

Activities: Meteorology Club 2, 3.

Phillip J. Shunk
Bath
Industrial Arts

Wearing a happy smile and aimlessly shuffling along, "Flea" is one of the most happy-go-lucky guys we know. He attends all the meetings of his club at the Bath pool room, where he presides at the table regularly. On occasion, he works on his car, or goes hunting. He may go to work for his uncle — Sam, that is.

Mary Ann Sickar
Northampton
Academic

Pert, petite, and personable, Mary Ann undoubtedly possesses all her family's affinity for cars except the greasy thumb. She's a busy girl, is Mary Ann, between school, writing letters, and attending cosmetology school. I suppose we could say that Mary Ann prefers coiffures to cars.

Activities: Tri-Hi-Y 2; Intramurals 1.

Dennis H. Siegfried
Bath
Industrial Arts

He isn't exactly the biggest fellow in the class, but what he lacks in size he makes up in noise; Denny has progressively louder cars. His life apparently has been taken over by several not uncommon influences: cars, the Bath pool room, Lou's, hunting, and Mary Fashions. Uncle Sam's fashions will probably succeed Mary.

Activities: Gym Club 1, 2, 3; Gym Exhibition 1, 2, 3.

Joseph J. Siekonic
Northampton
Academic

No one has worked quite as hard as "Junior" to cop the "Class Clown" crown. A jester wherever he goes, this holds good when he's working in Coplay or driving the Corvair around. What he'll do to teaching remains to be found out.

Activities: Basketball 1; Football Manager 1, 2, 3; N Club 3.

Carol Ann Silfies
Lehigh Township
General

Carol has an unassuming, modest quality that tends to give one the impression of shyness, but is she only fun! Definitely a brunette, and definitely the athletic type, she excels in the gym and is an accomplished horsewoman. She reads too; some of this she'll have to do — it's practical for practical nurses.

Activities: Tri-Hi-Y 2.

To our predecessors . . .

Cynthia Joan Silfies
Northampton
Secretarial

If there's anyone who actually bubbles over with both energy and exhilaration, it's "Cindy." You hear her giggle before you see her, and she pervades you when you're near her. As you'd suspect, she's a natural for gymnastics, as a majorette, for swimming, skating, bowling, riding — more school — anything.

Activities: Band 1, 2, 3; Gym Team 1, 2, 3; Fashion Show 1; Amptennian 3; Intramurals 1; Majorette 3.

Larry L. Silfies
Moore Township
Academic

For Larry there's nothing better than to be behind the wheel, engineering his '62 Ford along the open road; the road to Nazareth, that is, where the Hilltop beckons. Other times he's working at Deerville, or on cars, or maybe sketching a bit. Engineering beckons him too, and he's reckoning on answering the call.

Activities: Art Exhibit 1.

William Henry Silfies
Northampton
Academic

A serious student, Bill's genuine frankness, ready smile, and sly wit make him a friend to all. Bill's a builder; his busy brain and hands are always fashioning something out of wood. Right now his specialty is a model house. This is merely a preview of the new Bill, the architect whose specialty will be — houses.

Activities: Science Club 1; Stage Crew 2.

Anthony Smigowski
East Allen Township
Academic

Snap? He's the snappin'est, shutter-trippin'est, camera-luggin'est guy hereabouts. As Photo Club president, Tony's perpetually doing double takes — in duties. At home, he does another double take of note; musical instruments, especially his accordion. He has another double take in mind; college via the armed forces.

Activities: Photo Club 1, 2, 3; Stage Crew 1; Lighting Crew 2.

Gayle Smith
Lehigh Township
Academic

Dimpled, dark-eyed with hair to match, Gayle's gracious and gay — but she can blow up a gale. Both sophisticated and shy, Smitty's paradoxical enough for picnics and Luther League, sports and stereo, Courier and Amptennian — and French. After her Bon Soir to Penn State she'll Bon Jour her class; maybe soiree too.

Activities: Chorus 1; Vespers 1; Spring Concert 1; Amptennian 1, 2, (Co-editor) 3; Courier 2, 3; Stage Crew 3; Quill and Scroll 3; Intramurals 1; Art Exhibit 1, 2, 3.

Linda L. Snyder
Lehigh Township
Secretarial

Ever come across anyone who's both shy and full of laughter? We have: Linda. In school the library's been her wont. Outside, it's her wont to cruise her Chevy around Slatington and Northampton with pauses at the Green Lantern. She's decided to let the fates determine her other wants and wants.

Activities: Library Club 1, 2, 3.

Richard Snyder
Northampton
Academic

Not only is Richard one of the nicest guys we know; he has a keen mind, especially for science and math. He's pretty keen on physical fitness too; he does a lot of weight lifting and is a veteran of the Marine's program last year. He's been keen on Sam's gas station and the Hillside, but it seems he's now keen on college.

Activities: Wrestling 1, 2, 3.

Helen Rosalie Sodl
Northampton
Secretarial

Smiling, statuesque, and sepia-haired, Helen has all the natural characteristics of a model. She has the stance, too; she can strut like — a majorette; she can slither — like a mannequin; sometimes she just saunters — like Helen. Sometimes she reads, sometimes she's at Hillside; we've heard she might also be at IBM school.

Activities: Majorette 2, 3; Amptennian 3; Fashion Show 1; Color Guard 1; N Club 3.

We bid thee . . .

Sharon Jane Spangler
East Allen Township
General

Want to know Sharon's characteristics? Look for someone who's always happy, laughing, and telling jokes. Look for someone who also enjoys sewing, reading, hockey, and playing the piano. From here on, look for Sharon at the dairy — or in a dental office.

Activities: Library Aide 1; Fashion Show 1, 2, 3; Hockey 3; Future Homemakers of America 3.

Carlene Spengler
Northampton
Secretarial

"Lookie, lookie, lookie, here comes Cookie" — struttin' down the field! A mitey majorette is "Cookie;" a mitey snappy one, we might say. Carlene likes everything — from riding to records, and she's rounded up quite a collection. She's winding up to lasso a desk — by way of IBM school.

Activities: Majorette 1, 2, 3; N Club 3.

Judy Sprigle
Allen Township
Secretarial

There's no one who loves to argue cars more than "Juj." Naturally, you'd expect her to wax eloquently concerning the virtues of that chocolate Dodge Dart; she does a lot of cruising around town in it, too. It's been told that she waxes equally eloquently on the telephone. How she'll do on floors is a matter for conjecture.

Activities: Intramurals 1; Tri-Hi-Y 2; Fashion Show 3.

Richard Steffie
Northampton
Academic

Richard's a fellow who's really rich — rich in personality, sense of humor, and heart. How rich he is in nicknames we aren't sure, but they call Dick "Duck." He doesn't duck sports, dancing, Hillside, or cruising around in the car. There seems to be some question as to whether he'll duck school or the service.

Activities: Gym Club 1, 2, 3; Wrestling 1, 2; Football 1; Track 1.

Donald Stettler
Northampton
Academic

Jovial, chipper, and docile, Don's always ready for a few laughs. He does this on the run, for Don runs regularly — managing the wrestling team, errands for Amptennian, or just — running. He does a lot of hunting, too. Maybe he'll be doing some hunting for a college, or perhaps run to the Air Force.

Activities: Photo Club 1, 2; Amptennian 2, 3; Wrestling Manager 1, 2, 3.

John Stevens
Moore Township
Academic

Some of the faces at the "drags," the Blue Lantern, and the Bath pool room are the same. One of these "steadys" is "Butch," although at times he breaks the pattern to indulge in sports and hunting. Mostly, though, his sport is driving or working on cars, and it seems as though grease's gotten into his blood.

Jerome Stimpfl
Northampton
Academic

Tall, handsome, and athletic, "Ommy" is one of the great lovers of the class. When he's not occupied with one of his sports, he's joking with the gang at Hillside. He's experienced little difficulty engineering his way around here and wants to have a round of it in college, maybe the Air Force, too.

Activities: Football 1, 2, 3; Basketball 1; Track 3; National Honor Society 3; Amptennian 3.

Carol Stoudt
Northampton
Secretarial

With hair black as night demurely encircling a demure face, Carol lends the impression that she's — demure. Careful, though; she's really the Carol of the liltin' laugh and velvety voice. She's at all the games and shows off all the latest steps at the dances. Can you imagine what a combination like this'll do to a doctor's patients — or the doctor?

Activities: Chorus 1, 2; Vespers 1, 2; Spring Concert 1, 2; Amptennian 3.

Reap the fruits of five decades . . .

Diane Marie Strohl
Lehigh Township
General

With the kind of blonde hair and blue eyes you read about, plus a sly wit and ever-ready blush, it's small wonder our Diane was named Diane. She practices the culinary arts at several epicurean establishments; the fashions at Style Craft. With an eye for beauty, our beauty must be — a beautician.

Activities: Gym Team 1; Tri-Hi-Y 1.

Larry A. Strohl
Moore Township
Academic

Larry is pretty "lippy" — but only when it comes to blowing his trumpet; he sends you with sounds as silvery as its sheen — and it does shine. He's a top trumpeter in the concert and dance bands, but he likes sports, and Stroudsburg even more. He and college are cool with a common chord.

Activities: Band 1, 2, 3; Dance Band 1, 2, 3; Chorus 1, 2; Spring Concert 1, 2.

Linda L. Strohl
Lehigh Township
Secretarial

No matter where she goes, you'll find Linda's pleasant personality pervading the populace thereabouts; she fits. Oftimes she's skating at Edgemont or relaxing around food at Lloyd's — when not working at DeeVille or reading. In these she fits too, and she'll fit that secretary's chair.

Diane Sutliff
East Allen Township
Academic

As winsome and warm-hearted as the Greek goddess for whom she is named, Diane is equally as welcome, wherever she goes. Add a sympathetic nature and you have the makings of a social worker. Some more helpful ingredients Diane has are her interests in sports and music, and her work in 4-H and as a Sunday School teacher.

Activities: Chorus 1, 2, 3; Vespers 1, 2, 3; Spring Concert 1, 2, 3; Intramurals 1.

Joseph J. Sugra
Northampton
Academic

Tall, blond, slender, and always giggling, "Sugar" lives for fun. He makes sure of this when he's hanging 'round the Northampton restaurant or Hillside, and when he wants to relax from fun, he goes swimming or ice skating. He may also relax enough from fun to get shocking — in electronics school, of course.

Activities: Track 1.

JoAnne Tassie
Northampton
Secretarial

Our vigorous and versatile "Tassie" is always bouncing around the halls in search of a choice tidbit for the Courier. Whether it's driving a car or a tennis ball, her renowned giggle is never silent. We're wondering whether it will stop when she's punching a clock.

Activities: Library Club 1; Concrete Courier 2, 3; Intramurals 1.

Larry E. Temos
East Allen Township
General

Does Larry belong to the car crowd? All you need is one guess. You'll find him wherever the car crowd collects; try the auto races first. In season you might find him tramping a-field, gun in hand. Any season is the season for the Bath pool room and Lou's, though; he belongs to these crowds too. Maybe you'll find him with the Navy crowd soon.

Activities: Track 1.

Susan Ann Temos
Bath
Academic

A progressive sophisticate, Suzy delights in trend-setting; she swings with brilliant-minded contemporaries. While penning poetry or potting clay, our tender consultant will interpret anyone's problems. You might say Suzy's sharpening her wits, and her pen, so you can read her — perhaps even in Glamour.

Activities: Chorus 1, 2; Vespers 1, 2; Spring Concert 1, 2; National Honor Society 3; Amptennian 3; Art Exhibit 1, 3; Usherette 2. of dedicated labor.

Retha H. Tinker
Northampton
General

Rita possesses one of the most pleasant personalities of anyone we've ever known. What's more, she has a demure demeanor, a spontaneous smile, and a queenly carriage. Rita came to us from beyond Scranton by way of a short stopover at Whitehall. She also does short stopovers at the diner, and likes boys, cars, money — and her own beauty salon.

Activities: Drama Club 3.

Charlotte Lee Topfer
Moore Township
Secretarial

Everything about "Charlie" is pleasant; her smile, her appearance, her love of the great outdoors. This goes for her nature too, and you can see in her the influence of the Nazareth Y, the choir, and the Youth Fellowship, as well as skating and dancing. As for swimming at the Pink Cloud, it's "out of the pool" for business school — maybe.

Activities: Debate Club 2.

Nancy A. Treichler
Lehigh Township
Secretarial

Sparkling brown eyes peering at you from a crown of hair to match, smiling lips, and charming manner — Nancy enchants you, but look out for her sly wit. She likes reading, sports, playing piano, and dancing, which she does professionally, plus the food at Lloyd's. She'll dance her way right through IBM school into that office.

Activities: Library Club 1, 2, 3; Amptennian 2; Chorus 1.

Margaret Toth
East Allen Township
Academic

Sometimes you'll see Margaret with a palette or with a tennis racquet. Always, though, she's a wee wisp of woman who's calm, conscientious and who appears to be a bit shy — but only 'til you know her. She's capable, and competent in class and the library, and she'll be a capable, competent medical technologist.

Activities: Library Club 2, 3; Make-Up Crew 2.

Ricky A. Umstead
Moorestown
Industrial Arts

Sometimes mischievous, always good-natured and smiling, Ricky strolls blissfully through life — although he does move faster on the track. He hangs out at Faustner's service station and thinks about hunting and girls. To Shorty, there is no great press about anything, although he wants to go to work on one — printing.

Activities: Track 2, 3.

Jeanie M. Valkovec
Moore Township
Academic

Ribbons, romping, Salinger's satire, pianos, long walks, folk singers, and E. E. Cummings' poetry — all are intertwined in Jeanie. Untouched by the screaming, boisterous world, Jeanie stands alone — a true individualist. Research needs individualists and Jeanie needs Muhlenberg and biology for microbe hunting.

Activities: Chorus 1, 2; Vespers 1, 2; Spring Concert 1, 2; Art Exhibit 1, 2, 3; Library Aide 1; National Honor Society 3; Amptennian 3; Usherette 3; Intramurals 1.

Dennis M. Valo
Bath
General

Denny is he of the happy heart, the laughing lips, and the mind always leading him a-field, hunting or fishing. He's another habitue of the Bath pool room, and there's always a stool reserved for him at Lou's. He keeps current on mechanics by working on the red Chevy; he may keep this up in fatigues and GI shoes.

Larry F. Valo
Bath
Industrial Arts

The roar of the racetrack is irresistible for Larry, and whenever there's one going, he's winding up his hot Harley cycle. "Moon Pilot" also pilots the cycle around town and dabbles in sports, including hunting. Mostly, though, he's cued in at the Bath pool room. Electronics and the Air Force both cue him as well.

Phil D. Vitovitch
Northampton
General

Fishing in the spring, hunting in the fall, bowling during the winter, and driving the '59 Chevy around town all the time give you a pretty good account of Phil's activities. There's always at least one stop at Hampton Lanes. When he covers his blond head with a helmet and trades his car for a tank, he'll stop at nothing.

John Vitushinsky
Northampton
Academic

John has all three qualifications of the triple-threat male: tall, dark, and handsome. Triple-threat all the way, he's one of the most dedicated guys we know, and he goes all the way, whether it's sports, music, or studies. A top manager, he's out to manage being a teacher; he'll go all the way.

Activities: Basketball Manager 1, 2, 3; Football Manager 2, 3.

Barry Wagner
Bath
Academic

"Hook" generally has the "hook" — of school. However, these symptoms seem to disappear when he's cued in at the Bath pool room, or haunting the Nazareth Hilltop. Neither are they apparent when he's at the drags, hunting, or working on the Dodge. Just what effect they will have on automotive or IBM school nobody knows.

Francis Wagner
East Allen Township
General

A typical happy-go-lucky guy is Fran. He couldn't care less about tomorrow; today's what counts. What's on for today? It could be working on the car, hanging around Collis' used auto parts lot, going to a drag race, just driving around — or — thinking about the Marines, or maybe Bethlehem Steel.

Michael Wagner
Northampton
Industrial Arts

Mike has been a member of the lighting crew throughout high school, but this is where the similarity to lightning ends. He's also light by nature and conversation; a true jokester. He hunts and hot rods, or hangs at the diner or Jungle Rock, and looks the part. His problem is altering pegs to bell bottoms.

Activities: Lighting Crew 1, 2, 3; Wrestling 1.

Sandy L. Wagner
Bath
Academic

Shucks; "Slug" isn't the class football hero, she's that soft, smiling, sunny Sandy. She's particularly germane in German and uses her urbanity to drum some Deutsch into the domes of the Dummkopfs. Another of "Slug's" points is penmanship — through poetry and pen pals. She's pinpointed for Moravian to linger over languages.

Activities: German Club 1; Amp-tennian 3.

Dawn Walker
Pennsville
Academic

The mask of innocence personified, Dawn's wide blue eyes, blonde locks and sweet smile are strikingly like the happy-eyed children she creates on paper. A beguiling beauty, this happy, hall-walking temptress is a confirmed soul-stealer. When she has the happy-eyed children in her art classes drawing happy-eyed children, who knows?

Activities: Intramurals 1; Art Exhibit 1, 2, 3; Spring Concert 1, 2; Chorus 1, 2; Vespers 1, 2; Amp-tennian 1, 3; Stage Crew 3.

Ray Walker
Moore Township
Academic

With participation in the Jessi engineering program and a Merit Scholarship commendation behind him, it's little wonder that NASA has shown interest in Ray's space scrapbook. Ray paces his spaces with space research, Sunday School teaching, choir, bowling, and stamp-coin collecting. He's paged Penn State for engineering or teaching.

Activities: Chorus 3; Vespers 3; Spring Concert 3.

We bid thee . . .

Alice Wambold
Bath
Secretarial

Active, articulate, and airy, Alice is, like her namesake in Wonderland, tiny, with tawny tresses. She's a real devotee of dancing and you can see her giving out with the latest steps at all the Bath dances. Otherwise she reads, ice skates, knits, or stops at Lou's. Her fingers dance as well as her feet — on keys.

Activities: Library Club 2; Amptennian 3.

Pamela Jean Ware
Bath
General

As the band goes wham-bam, the majorettes are pirouetting and prancing and — there's Pam. No wonder she's a fashion show winner. Besides, there's sports — swimming, skating, boating — Luther League, knitting, and reading. Yes, Ma'am, that's Pam; and there's no reason why this junior miss shouldn't be trying junior college.

Activities: Majorette 1, 2, 3; Future Homemakers of America 2, (President) 3; Fashion Show 1, 2, 3; Chorus 1; Vespers 1; Spring Concert 1; Amptennian 3; Senior Class Play 3.

Sharon L. Weber
Northampton
General

"Sunshine's" exactly what her name implies — she exudes laughter, friendliness — and sunshine too. She's all over, but mostly at Hilltop. Sharon likes roller skating and ice skating so much she even likes the falls. When she's all over being all over, maybe she'll fall into a job.

Activities: Meteorology Club 2.

Robert Wechsler
Lehigh Township
General

"Shorty" may look muscle-bound and tough, but don't let the looks dismay you; he's about as mild-mannered and likeable as they come. He gives himself a lot of idle hours and spends them all just as freely — eyeing girls, hanging around Gasper's, or driving around anywhere. Lately he's had an eye on the Air Force as well.

Sandra Ann Weider
Northampton
Academic

Sandy's animated chatter and expressive gesticulations are giveaways anywhere; then you notice her brown eyes, a-sparkle with zest. At times she dabbles in basketball and tennis. When cruising in the Chevy, it's been usually for Hillside; now it's Cosmetology school and her shop.

Activities: Intramurals 1; Tri-Hi-Y 2; Amptennian 3; Fashion Show 3; Senior Class Play 3.

Poised and polished, Pat possesses the kind of personality that's parkling and sunshiny. An outdoors girl, she plays tennis, swims, and rides horseback; she's also seen at just about all the athletic events here. You might find this connoisseur of the hamburger at Hillside; she might find herself in an office or business school.

What more unforgettable character could there possibly be for us than "Ivanhoe," especially when he's chugging down Laubach Avenue in his "super-stock" Plymouth — or on the bowling alley or dance floor. Otherwise, Eddie's one of the "steady Eddies" at "Steady Eddie's." Ivanhoe has his steed aimed for the Pierce School and possibly a CPA.

There's never a dull moment when "Whitie's" around, and she's around a lot. She has the most disarming smile, but is she only noisy! With it all, she's a mighty good skate — literally — and is often at the Ritz or the Coplay Roller Rink. She reads too, and if we read Whitie, she's rolling toward the brink of a desk.

As refreshing as new-mown hay, sharp as a crisp autumn breeze, and pretty as one of her rosy-cheeked apples is Cheryl. Confident and capable, Cheryl does everything — sings in the chorus, plays sports, works in 4-H — likes animals and's a book-worm besides. Her worm'll turn — into an elementary classroom.

Tall and fun-loving, Dick enjoys cars and the company of girls. His main claim to fame is the Meteorology Club, which he proudly heads; otherwise he's one of the habitués of the Bath pool room and Lou's. He may tarry at these institutions for some time pondering claims to fame as yet untried.

Activities: Meteorolgy Club 2, (President) 3.

Exhilarating, enthusiastic, and eager, "Barb" always has a helping hand for everyone, usually a bit of banter with a bit of a barb. She's always up to something, whether Amptennian, National Honor, swimming, Courier, tennis, Hillside, or — mischief. We think she's up to teaching English as well.

Cuteness and consideration characterize "Mitzy" — she of the brown eyes. Friendliness and affinities for reading and bowling are aspects of her personal history. It's also history that she likes; history — enough to teach it.

Racy, rampant, and rollicking, Richie's ready — ever-ready, that is — to give out with gab, especially jabber in jest. He collects coins; he also races to drags and to fires. In fact, he's so fascinated by fires he went to fire school — and has the certificate to prove it. From what we've heard, he's all fired up by the Air Force.

Everything "Nupper" does, he pursues or exploits avidly and actively. This is true of him a-field with gun, or when mentally triggering his sense of humor; in studies and National Honor Society, or in sports. It applies as well to the Bath pool room. Maybe it's the exhilarating experience of the pool room which is leading him to — the Navy?

Spirit, snap, Sandy — these are synonymous. Her lilting laughter livens the area wherever she is — bouncing along the balance beam or hustling down the halls. Aside from occasional jaunts to Hillside, her other haunts are but one, the gym. This is her real love; she wants to stay there and teach it.

1965 VERSION OF 1915

The Seniors got into the spirit of the golden anniversary by "dressing up" like what they thought their counterparts of fifty years ago would wear to school to kick off the Amptennian sales campaign. Depicted here is typical of what they came up with; these were adjudged the best.

A Message To The Juniors:

The time has come for us, the Senior Class of 1965, to pass unto you who will be Seniors in the fall, the responsibilities of leading the underclassmen capably and successfully. We are delighted to bestow upon you the honors and privileges that we have enjoyed this past year.

We feel certain that, in this period of great transition and intensified scholastic effort, your job as leaders will be more difficult than in the past. We are also certain that you will meet the demands of these changing times by putting forth every effort and using every bit of knowledge you have acquired over the past years.

We are proud to have been associated with you, the members of the Class of 1966, for the past two years and feel confident that you are prepared to bear the title, "Senior," with dignity, honor, and scholastic leadership.

We, the Seniors, wish you Juniors success in your last year at NASHS and in all your future years.

A Message To The Sophomores:

We of the 1965 Senior Class feel that you, as Sophomores, have put forth a sincere effort and have accomplished much during your first year of Senior High. But, you must continue in your efforts and cooperate with your teachers in the years to follow.

You will find your Junior year's record to be very important when applying for college or a job. Also as Juniors you will find that you are no longer at the bottom of the ladder. There will then be others below you for whom you must set an example and give advice to so they likewise can progress along the path of education.

Moreover, you will find that your Junior year is not all work. You will be able to enjoy privileges you did not have as Sophomores. It will also give you a good feeling to know that now there is someone looking to you for advice and leadership.

There are many opportunities for those who are willing to work for them. We, the Seniors, know that you, the Sophomores, are capable of recognizing and utilizing these opportunities. We wish you the best of luck for a very successful Junior year and continued success in the future.

THE HIGH SCHOOL ORCHESTRA

THE High School Orchestra has attained a reputation for itself in the good music rendered from time to time, and on special occasions pertaining to this High School or other High Schools. It has existed since the year 1911 and has been the pride of the school ever since, increasing in members yearly, and new and more definite plans being made for its welfare. The first instructor of the organization was Mr. Richard Neubert, a musician in the city of Allentown, who came up to the High School every Tuesday and Thursday evening after 4 p. m. to give the Orchestra its lesson. He remained their instructor for three consecutive years, when Mr. Lloyd Moll, another well-known violinist from the same city, was chosen, and he is in charge of the Orchestra at present. His work is found satisfactory to both pupils and teachers of the N. H. S. and he enjoys the lessons and the pupils begin to show improvement in the musical line in the Orchestra.

Activities

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

The National Honor Society has been an active influence in our school since it was chartered in 1927. Membership is limited to the top fifteen per cent of the Senior Class. The Society is currently composed of forty-seven Seniors, sixteen of whom qualified during their Junior year. Led by their officers and Miss Marion Laubach, advisor, all strive to exemplify the factors of the National Honor cornerstone: scholarship, leadership, character, and service.

In keeping with their objectives, the members sponsored a tutoring service which has proven profitable to the student body. Socially, the Society planned and promoted the annual Valentine dance, "Heartbeat Hop." Another highlight of the year was the Regional National Honor Society conference at Lehigh University, Bethlehem. Attending were officers and Miss Laubach.

STUDENT COUNCIL

Organized in 1919 as the Student Betterment Association, the Student Council serves today as the operating vehicle of student government. Elected delegates from each homeroom are afforded opportunities for initiative, both as individuals and within the group through lending direction to such internal matters as class trips, minimal dance requirements, analysis and control of rumors, and relationships among students, faculty, and administration.

Together with its advisor, Mr. Peter Schneider, the Student Council sponsors projects such as the Catasauqua-Northampton Football program, Junior Red Cross campaign, providing guides for school activities, improvement of school pride, and the annual spring prom honoring Seniors. This year's event was Egyptian in theme and was titled, "Pharaohs' Fantasy."

PROJECTIONIST CLUB

The Projectionist Club is a group of very busy fellows who usually can be seen painfully struggling down the halls, bending under the weight and bulk of numerous important-looking cases. The cases contain samples of Mr. Balliet's "goodies," like projectors. These are set up in classrooms or the auditorium by the bearer, who then is transformed into the projectionist as well.

PHOTOGRAPHY CLUB

"Everybody ready on the count of three" is the familiar chant of the Shutterbugs, as they importantly flit about the corridors dogged by a safari of bulb, camera, and equipment bearers plus lesser apprentices. These hard-working fellows, coordinated by Mr. John Frailey, their advisor, snap and develop practically all the pictures around the school.

METEOROLOGY CLUB

A new satellite in the school spectrum last year was the Meteorology Club. It seeks to promote a better understanding of the phenomena involved in weather. Officers are Richard Whitehouse, president; Dennis Petrie, vice president; Rita Gomes, secretary; Paul Frack, treasurer, and Mr. Frank Kovacs, advisor. Daily weather predictions are posted on the main bulletin board. "What's the weather?"

Be it great or small.

STAGE CREW

Every show, every assembly, every program that takes place within the school requires a lot of help by people who aren't afraid of doing some work or getting their hands dirty. These are the unsung heroes of the stage; you never see or hear of them, but they're indispensable. The theatrical world calls them "stage hands;" here the term is "Stage Crew."

LIGHTING CREW OFFICERS

Some more of the "forgotten men" around the school are the members of the lighting crew. Here, in their usual "operating room" — the projection room above the auditorium, the Lighting Crew Officers look over the script of another production.

LIGHTING CREW

What has already been said above concerning much — and dirty — work could be repeated verbatim again here; it applies equally, or more so. The lighting crew is actually called into action oftener than the stage crew; there are many occasions demanding lighting control that do not require physical onstage changes. We could say the Lighting Crew operates just about full time, and we'd be right.

N CLUB

Ever since 1925, when the N Club was organized, this active group has existed to promote the school and its activities. Membership has always been limited to the wearers of earned N's.
 Originally these were solely athletes; however a number of years ago letters came to be awarded those achieving standards set for participation in other school activities as well.

This year, as in the past, the familiar cry of "Booster Tags for sale" by all the members was much in evidence, as were all kinds of activities designed to spur the spirit of the school. The promotion of good sportsmanship among all has always been the goal of this energetic group, whose efforts are coordinated by the equally energetic Mr. Harry Witemeyer.

CHEERLEADERS

"Ready-O-O-O" is the rollicking summons of the Cheerleaders that signals the loss of all restraint and the reign of vocal chaos. This sort of voodooism goes on at all sports events, and our lovely lassies are out there loosing their lusty lungs regardless of rain, snow, mud, or flood. They and their Coach, Miss Joan Kremus, really work at it.

Speaking of cheerleading; this has been known at Northampton as long as sports, and it has at long last undergone a complete cycle. In the "good old days," female cheerleaders were unheard of. Gradually the pendulum swung until male cheerleaders were unheard of. This year we have both — a new crop of lively lads who do the horsey hollering at girls basketball games.

QUILL AND SCROLL SOCIETY

Another new organization, the "Quill and Scroll Society," joined the school family during the current term. Its objectives are to encourage and reward outstanding individual achievement in journalism, or some of its phases.

The "Winston Churchill" Chapter was formally instituted at impressive candlelight ceremonies conducted by the Catasauqua High School Chapter, during which sixteen new members were inducted. Sandra Marth was elected chapter president. Serving as advisor is Mrs. Marianne Saul.

LIBRARY CLUB

During the many years that a library has been an integral part of Northampton High, there have been library aides. These have now organized into a Library Club whose objectives parallel their functions. Miss Grace McGrath, librarian, serves as advisor.

The aides report the presence of students in the library by delivering permits to the teacher of assignment. They likewise locate books and magazines, return books to proper places after use, and prepare and place relevant information on bulletin boards, peg boards, or in display cases to help the student body toward good reading.

TRI-HI-Y

The "Y" organizations have been an integral part of Northampton's activity program for a long time.

In 1917, they were the "Camp Fire Girls," and the local chapter was "Camp Lechauweki." During the Twenties they were transformed into the more prosaic "Girl Reserves," while a boys organization, the "Hi-Y," came into being.

The Hi-Y is no longer a part of the school activity scene; meanwhile time has seen the transformation of the Girl Reserves into the "Tri-Hi-Y."

Working cooperatively, they held the YMCA's discussion series, "Teen Talk," during meetings. Last October, they welcomed the autumn season by sponsoring a record hop. In December they brought Christmas to Allentown hospital patients — complete with their own Santa Claus. During the indoor sports seasons, they operated a checkroom as a service to patrons. They are advised by Mrs. Lois Sheffler and Miss Joan Wesley, respectively.

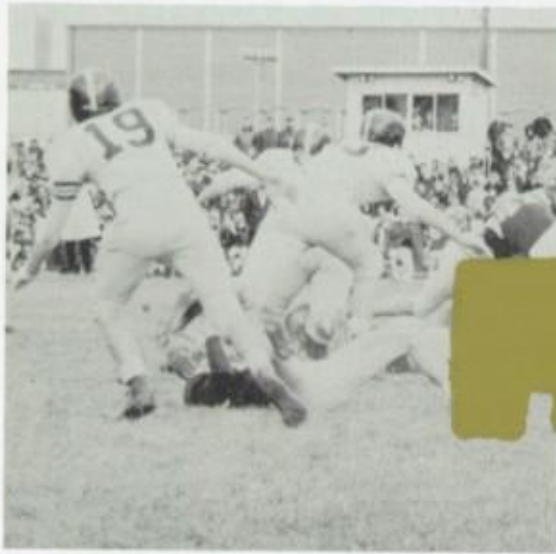

Sophomores have the Delta Tri-Hi-Y Chapter. From left, they are: Karen Korutz, secretary; Debra Michael, president; Nancy Reszetar, treasurer, row 1; E. Bachynsky, S. Scholl, J. Felix, A. Bauer, N. Fritz, row 2; M. Borger, K. Lilly, J. Yankovitch, and L. Smith, row 3.

It's harvest moon, the summer's done,
We bid a fond farewell to fun.

Cool, crisp days, and autumn's here,
We hit the books for one more year.

Football games, and cheers we scream,
On Turkey Day, the winning team.

Bells ring out with Christmas cheer,
The air outside is crisp and clear.

Calendar

The New Year starts with parties gay,
Then buckle down; no time to play.

All too suddenly, again, it's June,
Each Senior's life-bound, all too soon.

Couples, formal, find delight
And thrills, enchantment; it's prom night.

April showers, come once more —
Sing springtime's end to winter sore.

Scientists busy beating brain,
To build a world that's safe and sane.

Dreams of hearts and love divine,
"Will you be my Valentine?"

AMPTENNIAN

If you've never been on the producing end of a school yearbook, you've never lived; neither can you possibly begin to understand just how hectic and confusing — even if it's organized confusion — it can get. This year's Amptennian was no exception; in fact it was about as hectic as it could get.

It is likewise impossible to describe adequately the number of hours put in and the painstaking work done by some of the sincere, dedicated persons on the staff. Only a few of them are Gail Kramer, Susie Fogle, Lil Mirro, our Junior Editors — Mary Lisetski and Paulette Kutzler — Charlie Nordquist, Bob Henry, Willie Frey, a host more, and please don't overlook our chiefs, Beckie Kilgore and Gayle Smith.

At any rate, the long months of suffering are over, and here is the 1965 Amptennian. We had the golden opportunity for a splendid theme; it was fun to explore it and we hope we were able to do justice to it. Perhaps a few of us will live again fifty years from now when another lively Senior Class discovers us and another anniversary year.

and with pride;

Articles are assigned by the editors to staff editors, and in turn to writers. Completed copy comes back, is checked and typed, turned over to layout staff for assembly, then to the school print shop for production. When this has been done, the completed issue comes back to its point of origin for the circulation staff to count, fold, and deliver.

The Marching Band lines up on the athletic field, all set for the start of another football game.

THE BAND

It was last August when the bandsmen, one hundred strong, started drilling for a busy season that wound up with no less than thirty-five public appearances.

Marching season found them strutting at all the football games, a number of Hallowe'en parades, plus three contests, including Northampton's own Cavalcade of Bands — and the famous Reading Pretzel Bowl game, where they copped the second place trophy (who'll ever forget that bus ride back?).

The concert season wasn't long in following:

there were the assemblies and special engagements, including the Senior Class play, Junior Speaking Contest, and the band's own concert, "Bandology."

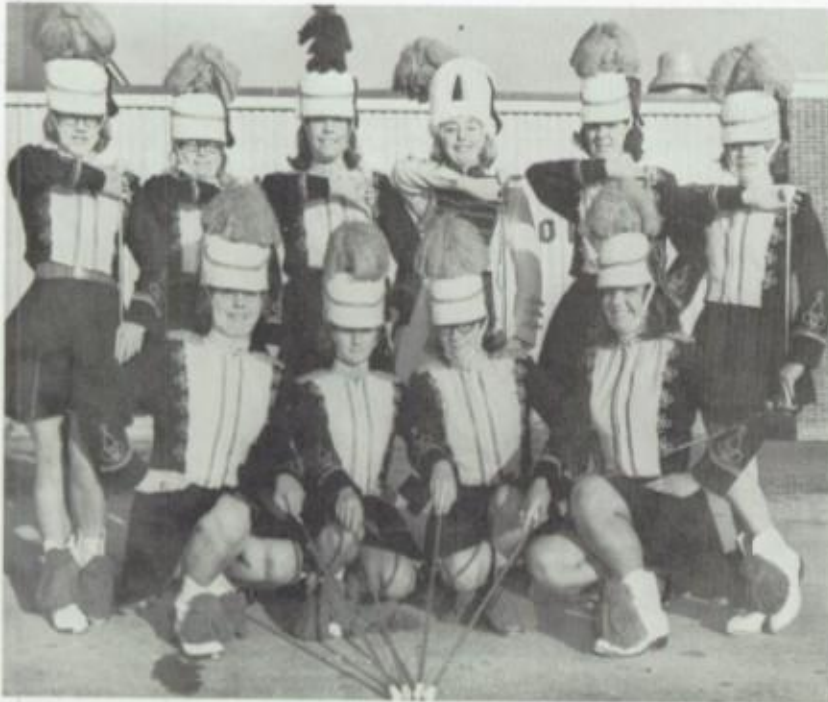

When selection time for honors came along, Peter McMurry, baritone horn player, received the nod to participate in both the District and State Bands.

In May, a successful and fun-filled year was climaxed by a trip to New York City, and everyone was glad they had worked as hard as they did.

With one eye on their conductor and the other on their scores, the Concert Band performs — at the concert, "Bandology."

For those who raise their voices —

CHRISTMAS VESPERS

The Choruses and ensembles blend their voices and talents to do another of the Christmas Vespers which have become tradition.

Vocal music has come a long way in Northampton, and a considerable share of credit for its fine progress is due Mrs. Thelma Santee, who relinquishes her music as of this term to teach English.

The Christmas Vespers, which have become a tradition here, again held capacity audiences spellbound with the flickering candles, "Tannenbaum," the peaceful beauty of "Silent Night," and the majestic thunder of the "Hallelujah Chorus."

Another high spot of choral music program is the Spring Concert. This year's was centered about theme, "Love Makes the World Go 'Round" — and they did the music superbly. Chorus members gave Mrs. Santee a surprise presentation in appreciation of her many contributions to vocal music.

The Vespers and Concert are but a few of innumerable appearances made by the choruses and various groups within them during the school year. These are depicted in this section of the Amptennian, including the next page.

JUNIOR SPEAKING CONTEST

A hush of anticipation pervades the audience, eight nervous students appear — and the thirty-ninth annual Junior Speaking Contest is under-way.

Another hush as winners are announced by the judges. Second place awards go to Mary Lisetski and Richard Burbes. First places are awarded to the happy people just to the right.

THE SENIOR

Another edition of still another event which has become tradition at Northampton took place the last Wednesday in January — the Senior Class Play. As has likewise become custom, it was a rollicking comedy. The vehicle done was Felicia Metlcalfe's "Take Your Medicine."

The plot unfolded around the whims of Leonard Ellis as a hospital patient whose ills were only a sour disposition and too much money. In the twin room with him was Peter McMurry, plagued by too much raisin pie.

Romance and wrong impressions further tangled the plot with Susan Fogle as the niece of Ellis and LeRoy Brobst, her professor fiancé who has just earned his doctorate and is promptly mistaken by the hypochondriac uncle for a physician. There were further complications; James Feldman as an escaped psychopath, Barbara Fenstermaker, the student nurse who seemingly knew only her plaintive cry, "Temperchure, temperchure."

The photo finish occurred when the new Ph.D. saved the uncle's life, by capturing the psychopath, won the girl and a financial reward in the bargain. The production was coached by Mrs. Mae McCann.

Kathy Mohry, right, steps back to survey the make-up job she did on Rita Miller.

SENIOR

"Hmmm . . .," ponders Tom Lahovski (left), while just to rear Mr. Harry Reiff talks figures to someone else. Ralph Dech and James Gardner do some more pondering.

The world — even outer space — condensed into complex lines; this is mechanical drawing. In industry, mechanical drawing is a must, from a straight line to a satellite, and Mr. Harry Reiff works toward that kind of preparation. The arts of construction find expression in the wood and metal shops as students of today learn to be builders of tomorrow's material world.

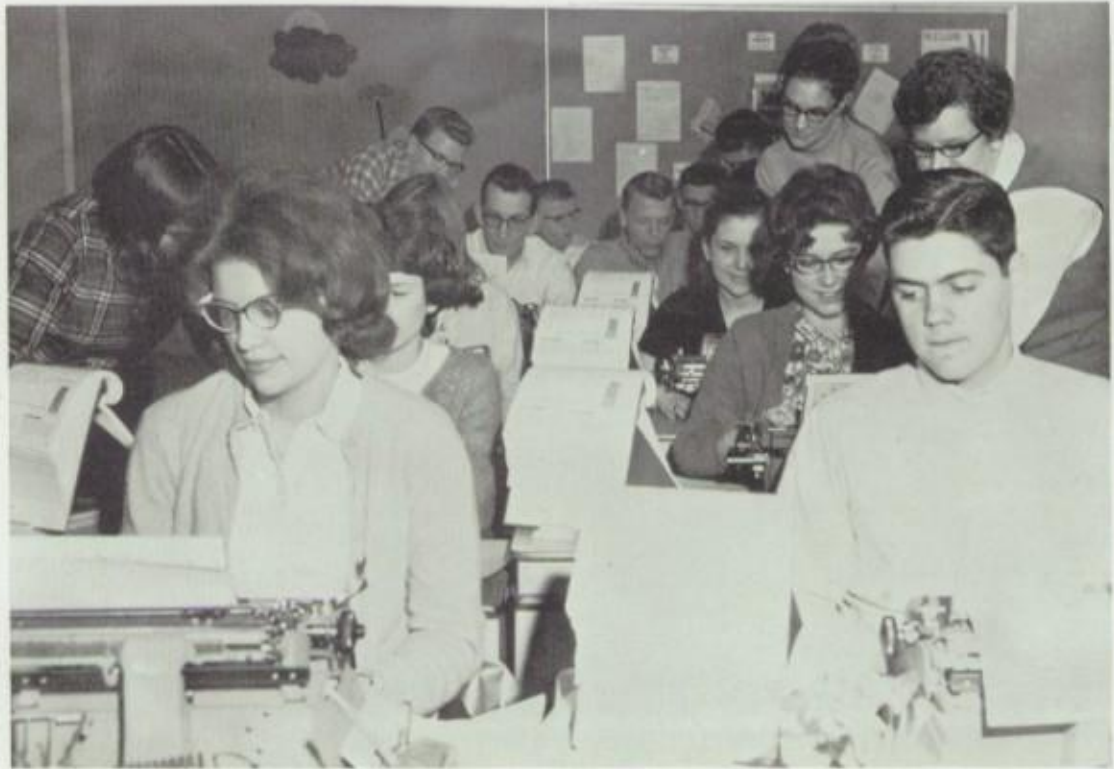

The modern secretary, responsible for orderly procedures, gets initial training on a high-school typewriter. The complex business world needs shortcuts, this means abbreviation which in turn means shorthand which, plus office machines, is also taught here. Preparing for the wheels of commerce is a pleasant task at Northampton, with the latest in equipment and a top-rated staff.

The enthusiastic quest for knowledge . . . a homemaking class session. In foreground are Lucille Person and Sharon Spengler. In far background is Mrs. Ruth Huber, instructor.

SUBJECTS

They aren't talking but the message from Loretta Mast and Frank Astl, in foreground, seems to be, "... and I thought I knew the alphabet." Behind Frank, Mrs. Magdalene Hauke helps Nancy Kratzer. To immediate rear is Jeanie Valkovec.

It is now known that proper nourishment is a factor influencing the mental condition of a person. This and many more components of that most important aspect of life — the home — are taught in homemaking.

A shrinking world has necessitated spanning the obstacle commonly called the language barrier.

Northampton's language bridge contains four spans: German, Spanish, French, and Latin. The fundamentals of Latin are a natural springboard for branching into the others. The color of old Spain is mixed with the music of Spanish syllables in a program from elementary through high school. The suave grace of French, world diplomatic language, is made an enjoyable experience, as is the crisp, guttural precision of the world scientific tongue; German.

"Roger — over and out," proclaims Miss Elaine Miller, second from left — in German, of course — to LeRoy Brobst, Carolyn Marsh, and Jacob Gruber.

But, in part . . .

"This is your pilot," dreams John Toth — in French — as passengers Susan Temos, Janice Herd, Donald Bensinger, and Jerome Stimpfl listen attentively.

"That's what I got," Andy Martnick proudly proclaims to Mr. Robert Druckenmiller in Psychology.

Mathematics is likewise a going program, with something available to every student's needs. The new emphasis of Albert Einstein's searching mind is reflected from advanced mathematics down through shop math.

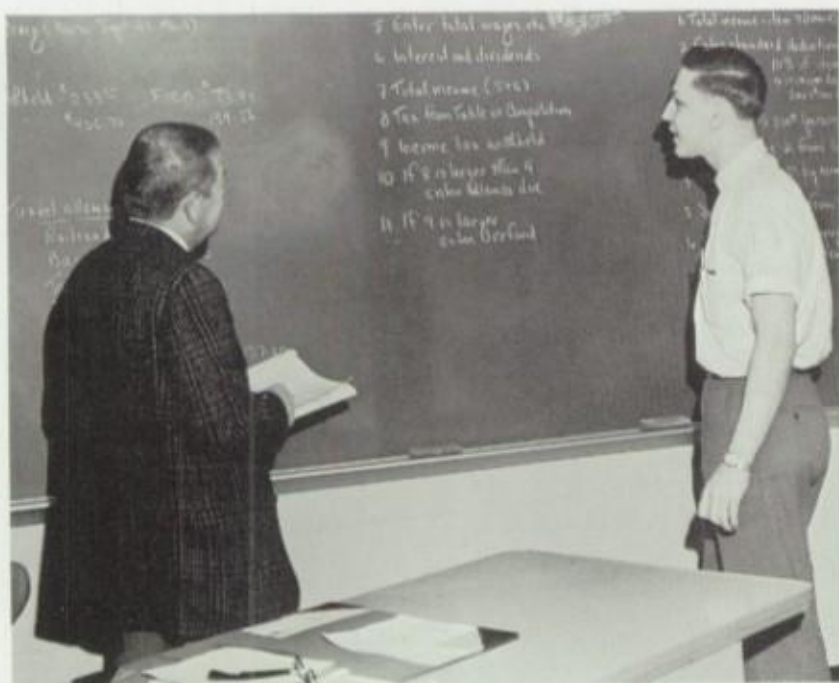

Neither are the fine arts, such as music and art lacking. These endeavor to develop the creative powers of students as individuals, to use as they will — professionally or as a hobby.

"Double bubble — toil and trouble," quoth Macbeth. English is not entirely exempt from the language barrier, as Seniors, with eleven years behind them, found out this year as well in their quest for knowledge. The school English program has undergone several cycles designed to produce a fully coordinated course from first through twelfth.

"The word is AND, and it's English," Mr. Nabeeh Younes explains to his Spanish IV class.

Learning to live.

"But Mr. Lisetski, I'll never make the over $10,000 income bracket," Stephen Sayuk wails in Problems of Democracy.

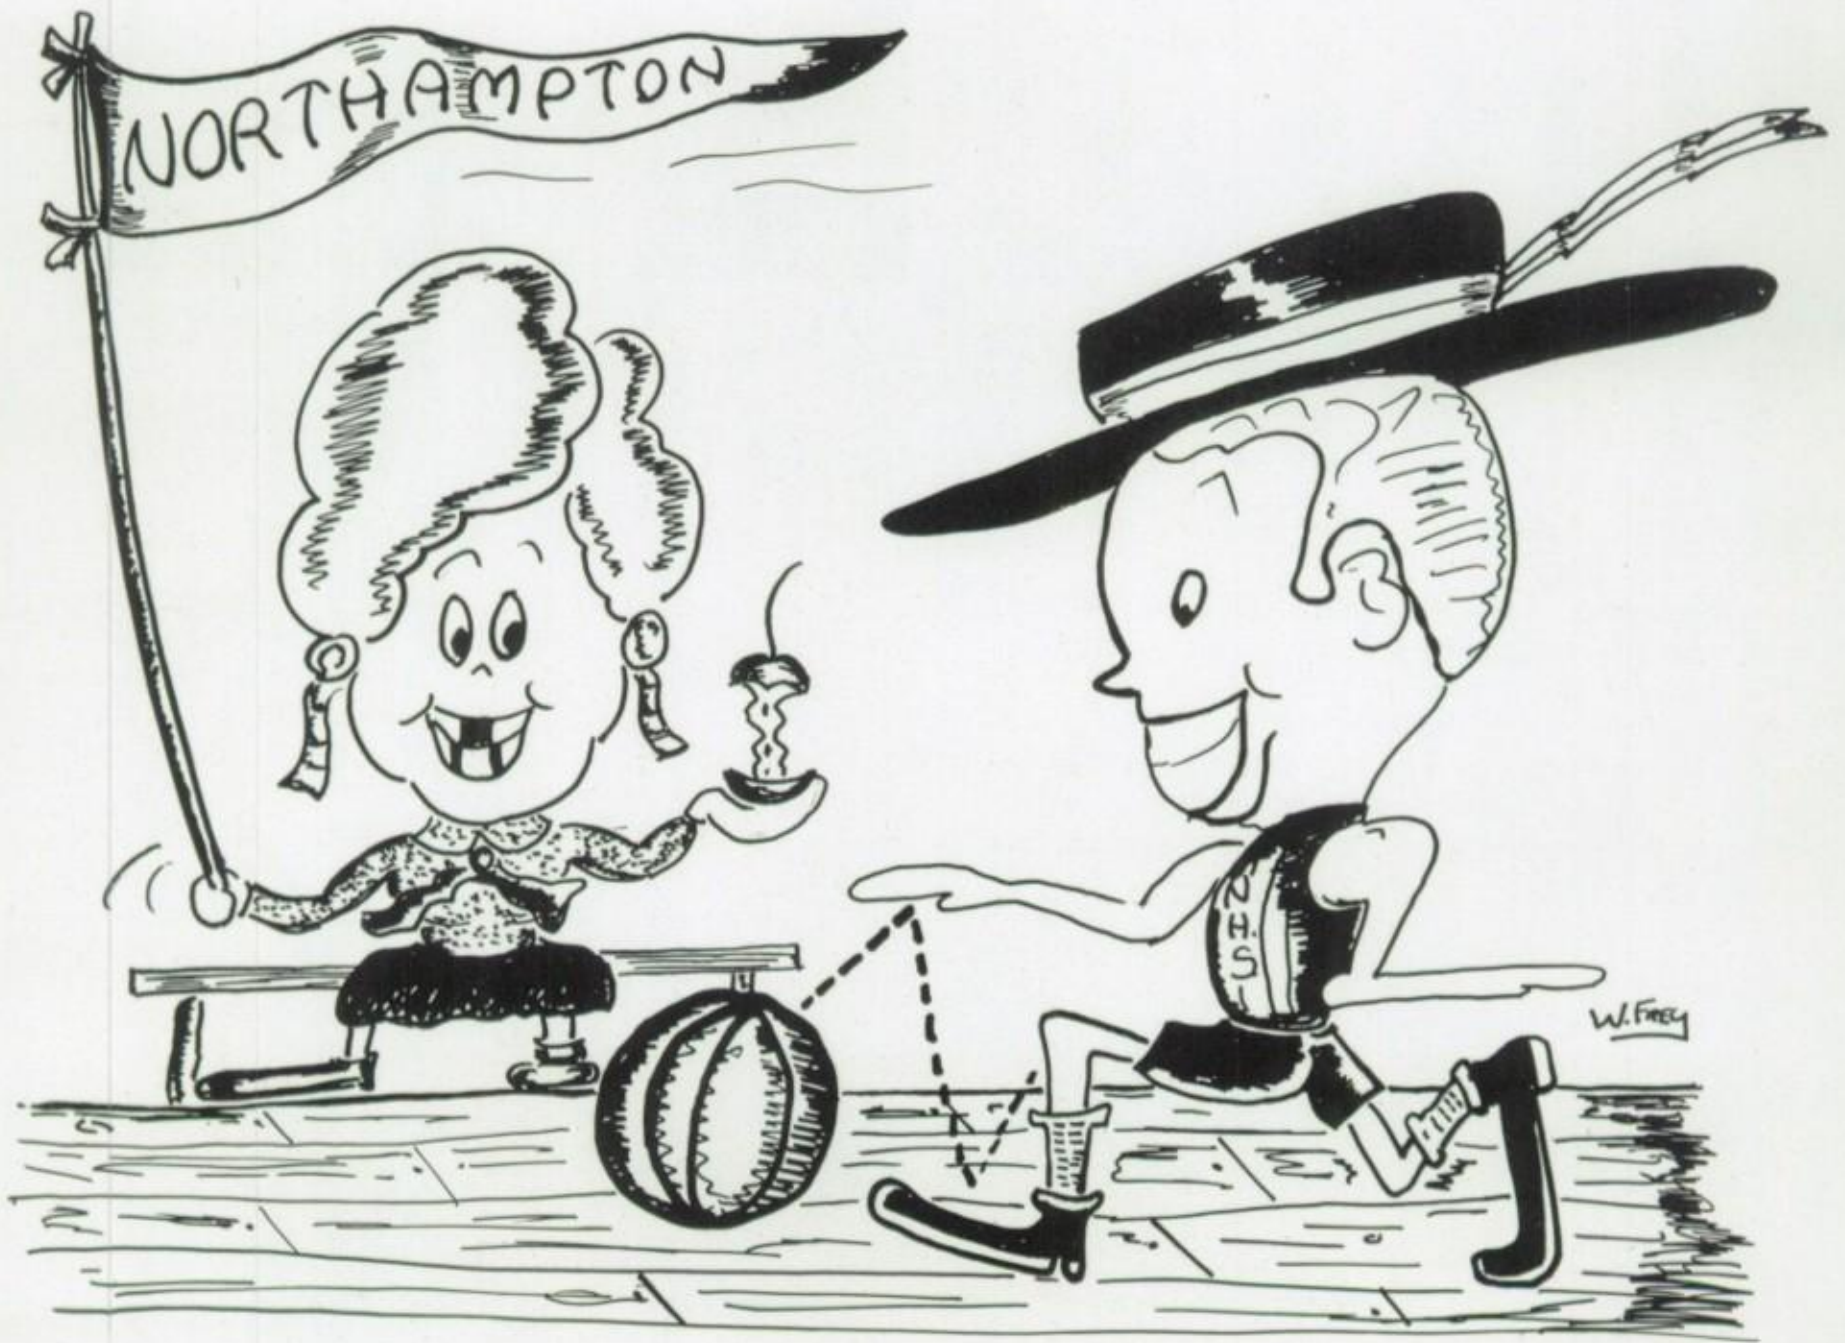

"I dare ya to shake it up," quips Joan Keller, left, to Cynthia Scott in Chemistry class.

In this age of ideologies and political problems, Problems of Democracy stresses a knowledge of government. Much more goes into the social studies program in all grade levels. Also open to Seniors is Psychology, in which the ability to live together in a complex world is stressed, partly through the exploration and analysis of people's needs and wants.

With the flow of traffic increasing steadily between Earth and outer space, the need for qualified minds has expanded tremendously. We are fortunate to have a Science Department capably prepared for the space age. No small part of the science program, especially for Seniors, is chemistry, where smoke and stacks of sophisticated looking jars appear to be all in the day's work.

FOOT

Enthusiasm goes a long way, but it takes more than enthusiasm to win games. Our football team, driven hard by Coach Al Erdosy and his assistants, responded nobly, but just couldn't seem to get started. Crucial fumbles and a few bad breaks plagued the Kids.

On September 25, full of optimism, they traveled to Phillipsburg. The Stateliners came up with an overpowering team and dealt them a severe setback.

The Monday Morning Quarterbacks picked Emmaus over Northampton, but were proven wrong by a sneaky 13-12. The next blow came at the hands of the Whitehall Zephyrs, a 13-7 defeat.

"Ball, ball; who's got the ball?" seems to be what a lot of fellows are saying during this play in the Emmaus game.

BALL

There were a few wins after that, until Lehigh-ton came along. This was a must for the Kids to win, but enthusiasm wasn't enough; they didn't.

The season did end gloriously, though, with Northampton handing Catasauqua its customary Thanksgiving Day trouncing.

For an inexperienced team, the record didn't show up too bad:

Opponent:	North.	Opp.
Phillipsburg -----	0	42
Emmaus -----	13	12
Whitehall -----	7	13
Palmerton -----	14	12
Lehigh-ton -----	7	12
Nazareth -----	12	7
Stroudsburg -----	26	7
Catasauqua -----	32	6

GIRLS BASKETBALL

This season saw the return of girls basketball to varsity league competition for the first time since 1936. Led by Co-captains Mary Rank and Veronica Mertz, they came through with four victories: Slatington, Stroudsburg, and two against Hellertown.

It was also apparent that the strategies of Miss Joan Kremus, coach, and Miss Janet Yelenics, assistant, were paying off along with solid team determination, for these victories were definite progress from the team's initial non-league season last year. The team loses five Seniors, but there are promising underclassmen on the way up.

BASKET

Basketball, the oldest sport at Northampton, got off to a better start this year than in many a year. Then came a slump, and from that point down it was strictly heartbreak. Coach Howard Dotter, Assistant Coach Robert Crawford, and all the basketekers fought courageously and well, but Lady Luck had turned to stone.

There was one thing sure about Dotter's Trotters — they weren't quitters; they hung on with grim determination down to the final minute. Seniors Dave Hangen and Ron Klipple inspired Juniors like Lew Miller, Pete Schneider, Mike Misko, Denny Onkotz, and Jerry Dotter to make their opponents pay dearly for victories. These Juniors and other underclassmen promise greater things next year with the training and experience they possess.

BALL

The record definitely shows a team on the upgrade; all in all it was the best season the Kids had for a long, long time. Note the close scores; there were 11 wins; nine losses:

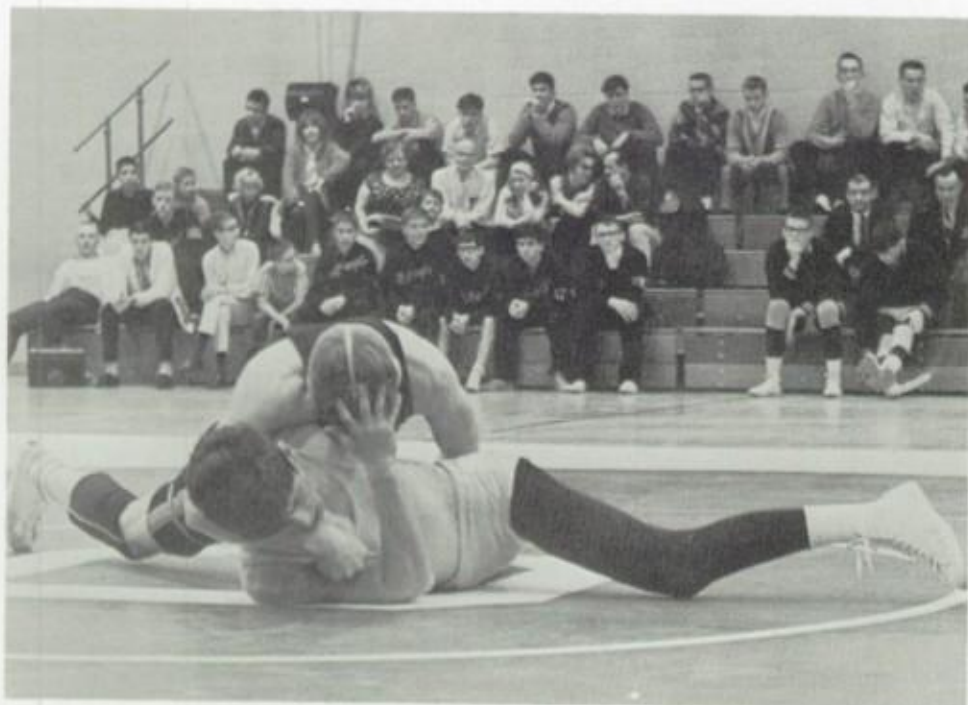

Opponent	North.	Opp.	Opponent	North.	Opp.
Fountain Hill	62	66	Palmerton	59	65

Charles Nordquist, Northampton, closes in on Joseph Schaffer, Whitehall, for a pin.

WRESTLING

This year's wrestling team proved to be an unsinkable powerhouse — a juggernaut that swept everything in its path to take the new Lehigh Valley League championship for the second time in as many years. It kept right on going to score three shutouts — the first since 1958 — to dominate the first Lehigh Valley League tournament (at which they were host) and kept right on going some more to trounce Hellertown, champion of the Lehigh-Northampton League, and William Allen, powerhouse of the East Penn League.

Directed by Harry Wall, head coach; Gordon Bartholomew and Alvin Hoffman, assistants, the squad was stacked with Seniors: Glen Chamberlain, Bob Henry, Jan Billy, Charlie Nordquist, Gregg Amore, and Brian Lloyd, all of whom were tourney winners. These are now losses which will be difficult to replace.

for a world of rivalry.

CHAMPS

The scoreboard of champions, including the shutouts we mentioned across the page, as well as the defeat of two other league champions, is one to be justly proud of. It is also one which will keep many a team of future Northampton wrestlers hopping to match:

Opponent:	North.	Opp.

Northampton's Gregg Amore works on another pin; this time on Easton High's Young.

Let us grow strong;

FIELD HOCKEY

Another innovation was heralded at Northampton this year with the welcoming of girls field hockey into the varsity sports program.

Answering Coach Joan Kremus' call for candidates was a horde of high-spirited females that all but left her dumb-founded. Finally, though, the squad narrowed down to thirty girls, led in action by Veronica Mertz and Julieann Augustine, co-captains.

It was a typical first season; they didn't win any of the four games on the varsity schedule, but they gained valuable experience for the future, and they'll be in a much better position from here on in.

For the record and for future reference, the first goal was scored by Co-Captain Veronica Mertz with an assist from Rita Schneider.

Here are some typical hockey field comments, applicable to both practice and matches, first-hand from first-year veterans:

"All right, you kids, get going — two laps; run, not walk."

"There's 'Tank' and 'Skinny' leading the squad through calisthenics."

"Emmaus ready?" "Yes."

"Northampton ready?" "Yes."

The whistle goes, and its ground-sticks, ground-sticks, ground-sticks; HIT.

"That's it . . . stay with it . . . come on girls, let's go . . . get that ball away from them!"

"Hey, the whistle blew; is that it?"

"Our first game is over. Gee; so soon."

but, never at the sacrifice —

TRACK

Once considered a second-rate sport at Northampton, track is definitely on the upsurge. Coach Bill Stranzl and his new assistant, Tom Peifer, have pushed team spirit to an all-time high and driven a will to win into the heart of every man on the team. With a hard core of seniors like Bruce Fox, Tom Lahovski, John Mauser, Dennis Morgan, Bob Henry, and Jim Feldman, the squad has rung up a goody share of victories.

In short distance running, fellows like Vernon Fegely, Frank Wolfel, Tom Lahovski, and Charles Drummond score regularly for the Black and Orange. Jim Harhart does the same thing in the half-mile. In the mile, John Mauser is always good for a first, and you can be pretty sure that Bob Henry'll be right behind with a close second or third.

Field men like Paul Marth, Dennis Petrie, and Fred Herschman are always an asset to a track team; so are weight men like Bruce Fox, Dennis Morgan, Alex Lubenesky, and Jake Dornbach.

BASE

Baseball is a lot like math; it requires a lot of precision, good timing, and the quality of exactness. So-o-o, if you want to make a formula of it, here's one: one excellent coaching duo plus one group of ready, willing, and able guys, equals one terrific ball team. That's just what we have; and that's what we've always had.

Besides, it's what we'll have as long as we have coaches like "Mike" Lisetski and Jim "Casey" Oplinger. As in past years, the 1965 version will be a threat to everyone, all the way.

Let us grow staunch and upright,

BALL

Speaking of the past, this is the Amp-tennian's golden anniversary — and it's also the golden anniversary of baseball in Northampton High; the first team played in 1915. We salute the Black and Orange Nine on fifty glorious, action-packed years.

We can't tell you much about this season; only three games were played thus far, but we have three victories:

"Okay, what DID happen to the bat?"

"One more strike and he'll be out too."

"Thought I wouldn't swing at that one, eh?"

"All right, I'll ask one more time; 'Who has the ball?'"

Both physically and morally;

"How do I get out of these confounded poles?" Sandi Milisits seems to be saying, as Veronica Mertz and Rita Schneider stand by to help.

GYM TEAMS

There have been gym teams for many years at Northampton, both boys and girls gym teams, and there have been people who excelled in this kind of activity. However the past several years have seen interest in this activity heightening. This has been noted particularly since the new school building was occupied in 1960.

The gym team is a natural and pleasant way of complying with Presidential pleas for greater physical fitness to offset the "nation of weaklings" accusation. A lot of time and effort is spent by a lot of people to develop their bodies the right way — by suitable exercise. The value of such exercise is indisputable; check the team members.

Ever building upon the foundation,

GYM EXHIBITION

Like membership on the gym teams, participation in the annual Gym Exhibition has been increasing in popularity. This is the event where the lads and lassies show the public what they've been practicing all year under the tutelage of Mr. Al Erdosy, boys coach, and the Misses Joan Kremus and Janet Yelenics, girls coaches.

On the gym team they work on the uneven parallel bars, balance beam, high bar, still and flying rings, horse, Swedish box, and trampoline. The mastery of these is demonstrated in the exhibition, as are precision calisthenics. The reward of the mastery is personal; it goes automatically to the individual participant.

Dennis "Muscles" Siegfried shows superb control on the still rings, although he could be practicing yogi.

PHYSICAL FITNESS PROGRAM

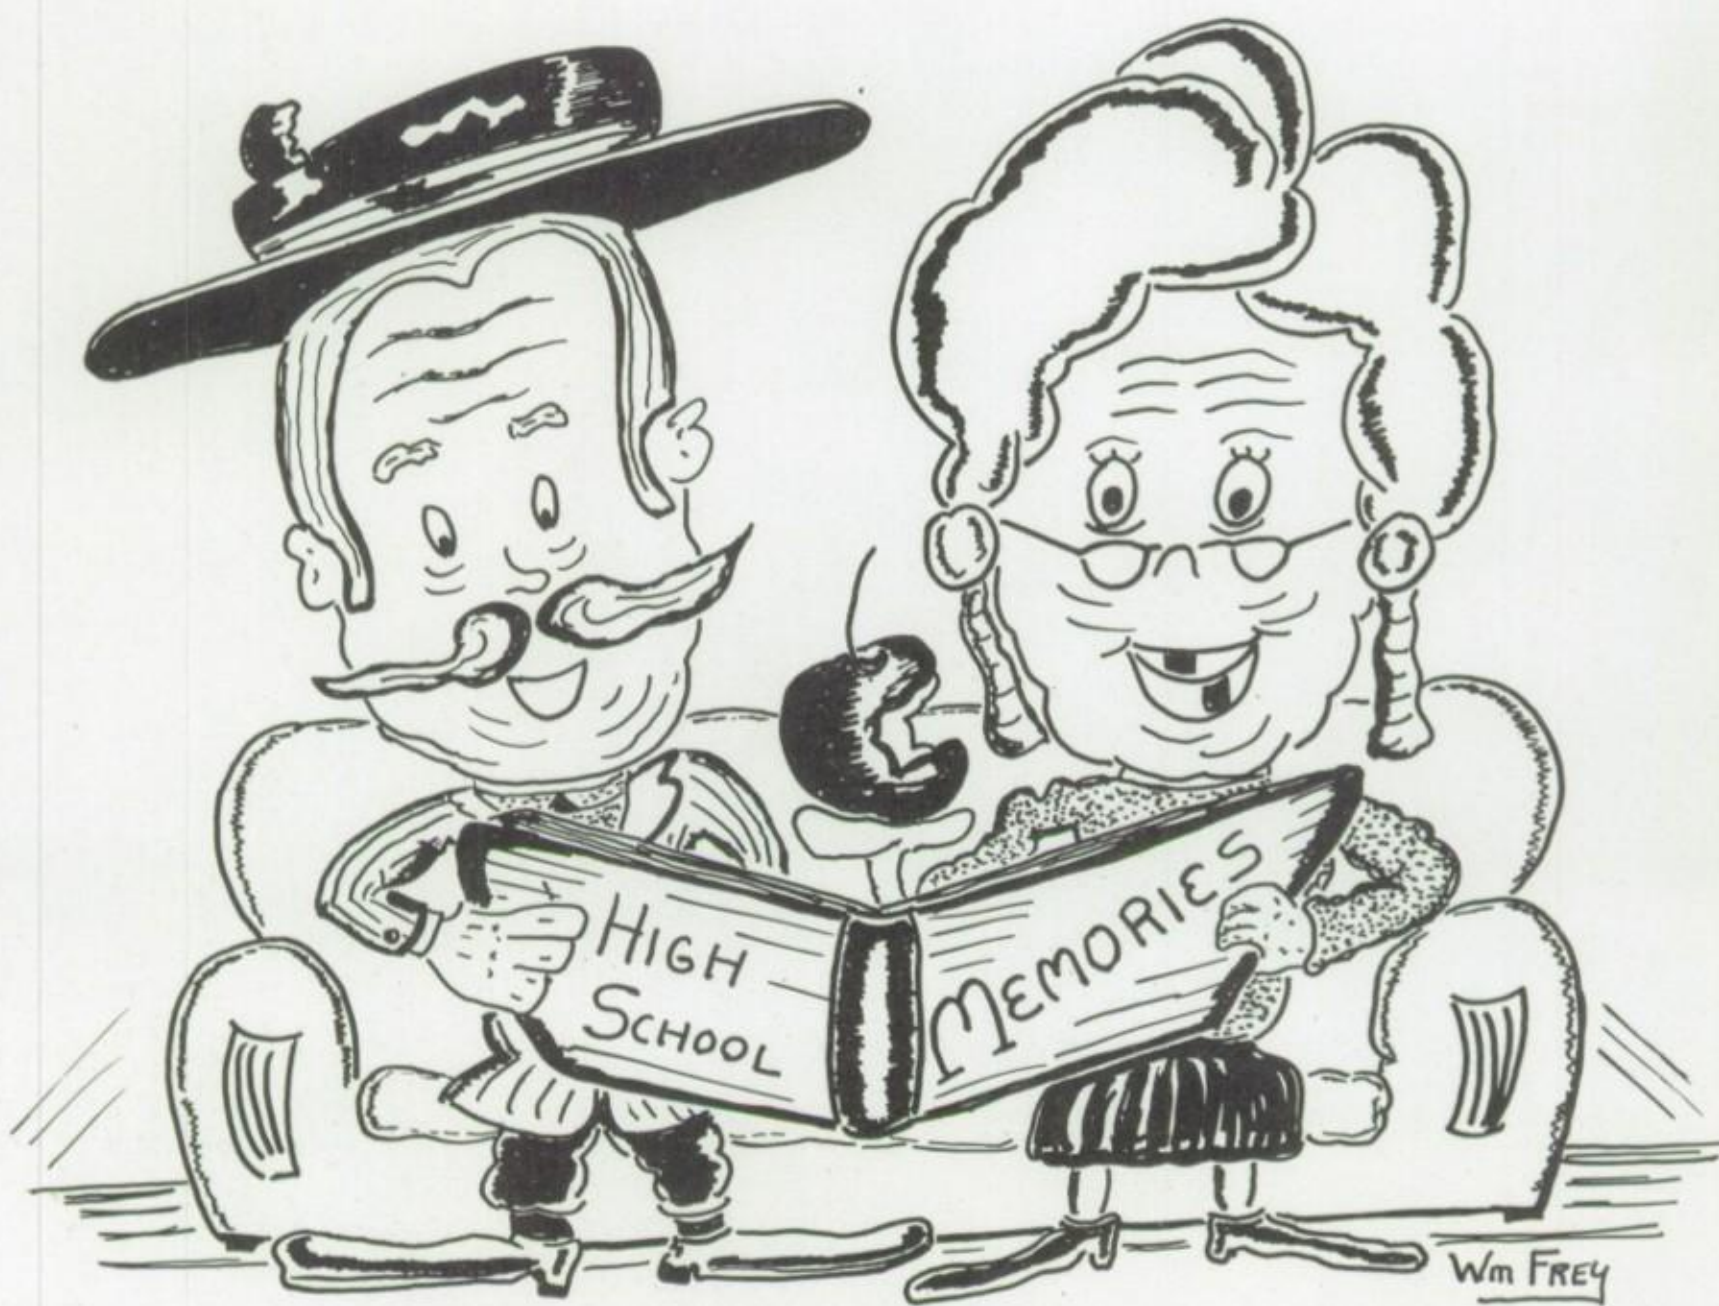

When the United States Marine Corps announced it was sponsoring physical fitness contests in memory of President Kennedy a year ago, Northampton was not long in responding to the challenge. Teams within the school were selected, and one emerged to do battle with the others. Trained and coached under the expert tutelage of Mr. Albert Erdosy and Mr. Gordon Bartholomew, the team easily conquered those of neighboring schools; then went on to do the same on a regional basis at Muhlenberg College, where individual honors were taken as well. Last fall, the Marines came baring trophies and plaudits.

Members of Northampton's Physical Fitness Team proudly display their Marine Corps battle honors. Mr. Albert Lerch, third from right, makes presentation of team trophy, while

Memories

TIMELESS

It is said that once an occurrence is photographed on the film of the mind it is impossible to obliterate, and that this photograph will be produced any number of years later — immediately — when the proper signal is given.

Through this, the individual is able to recall any or all experiences, and everything ever learned.

It's not the "Teahouse of the August Moon;" it's Mr. and Mrs. Leo Fritchey's back yard on Main Street, Northampton. The people are Penny Martin, Marsha Focht, Joanne Schwartz, and Robert Beers, all of Mr. Harry Witemeyer's world cultures class.

Barry LaBarre was slyly holding hands with his Lady Fair at the prom, so his picture was just as slyly taken.

TREASURES

There is a problem, though. There are so many memory treasures, and when we close the door on school for the last time, gradually to become involved in other matters and cares, we may not recall the signal. Camera film is not so. Through this medium, then, we offer this indelible record of things we want to remember, hoping they will serve as signals to other timeless treasures space does not permit.

Mr. Harry Witemeyer, retiring president of the Educators Association, right, congratulates Mr. G. Alvin Lynn, left, new president, and Mrs. Althea Ellis, secretary.

It's good to know one's class president is physically fit. Gregg Amore is presented with Marine Corps individual and team (which he led) trophies by Mr. Albert Lerch, guidance counselor.

Mr. Peter Schneider, toastmaster at the annual teachers dinner last spring, left, presents gifts to Mrs. Margaret Lilly, East Allen Township school, and Mrs. Renee Snyder, familiar principal of Northampton's Wolf school, on eve of their retirement.

Filling the soul —

Remember how the new wing looked in the beginning . . .

When Sharon Riegel was appointed Junior Fashion Board representative at Zollinger's . . .

How happy we were to meet our own exchange student, Christina Kugler, of Switzerland, who's chatting here with Mr. Laub, and who was so camera shy . . .

Here Christina is shown with Mrs. Harold Schisler . . . she was a house guest of the Schislars . . . she's still camera shy . . .

How Mr. Laubach outshouted everybody at our first pep meeting in September . . . wish he were our cheerleader instead of our boss . . . that's Mr. Schneider on the left; cheerleaders are Martha Nacheisty, Lynne O'Brien, Elouise Deily . . .

with joys of the past,

... How Loretta Marx and Judy Sprigle laughed when they were caught "modeling" ...

How Coach Erdosy, former Allentown High Coach J. Birney Crum, and Coach William Kennedy, of Catasauqua, "buried" the hatchet with the Exchange Clubs before the Turkey Day game ...

When we went to the World's Fair. Here are Mary Rank, Janet Gabryluk, Vernon Fegely, and Allen Fogel ...

and Diane Griesemer, Dawn Walker, Judy Hauck, and more of us, still at the World's Fair ...

On B-E Day, when the language lab came in for a lot of use by the Chamber of Commerce, like Mr. Franklin Graver, Mr. Woodrow Lindenmoyer, Mr. Richard Miller, and Mr. Laub, above ...

It wasn't only business or education on B-E Day; it was dining too, if you check, from right, Mr. Harry Reiff, Mr. Thomas Peifer, Mr. James Oplinger, et al, and see what they're holding.

Gladdening the heart —

Remember the field day Santa Claus had at the teachers Christmas Tea . .

and the superb Christmas Prom, "Winter Whirl," the Amptennian held, and Co-editors Gayle Smith and Beckie Kilgore crowned Julieann Augustine and Frank Miletics Queen and King . . .

Hmmm — how'd you get in here? The Courier typing and sports staffs: P. Groff, K. Heitzman, S. Marth, L. Leindecker, M. Leiby, R. Bunk, seated; M. Kaszyski, C. Hoppes, G. Beil, standing.

Do you recall when Santa told Mr. Henry what he wanted for Christmas? . . .

The pensive mood on some of the faces at the "Winter Whirl" . . . like Anne Schmoyer, Joe Siekonic, Sally Reese, and Diane Fedorishen, for example . . .

How busy everything looked when John Gill (in foreground) and a few hundred other kids were setting up science fair exhibits . . .

with thoughts of yore,

The day the Guidance Office was so jammed Debbie Mohr and Pat Keeler were taking turns being in the hall while working . . .

That proud day when Dr. G. A. Eichler, our former superintendent and president of the Northampton Public Library Association, looks over the first check with E. Albert Boyer, treasurer, and Mrs. Catherine Smith, secretary . . .

When the Straps and the Snakes got started . . .

When John O'Brien, of NASA, came to school with his hair-raising show . . .

When our own Amptennian Art Editor, Gail Kramer, won the Good Citizenship award . . .

And when one of our best loved citizens, Dr. Charles Fox, received the Exchange Club Golden Deeds Award — plus a surprise visit from Mayor John Daumer, right, Council President Andrew Korutz, left, with a Proclamation announcing "Dr. Fox Day." Dr. Fox is a former Northampton Burgess . . .

The days of youth —

Remember that busy line-up Mr. Kleppinger always has at the Art exhibit . . .

How proud our local Science Fair winners were: John Gill, Joan Keller, Raymond Anthony, Eric Sharkazy, and Anthony Kohl . . .

The trio of happy Legionnaires that gathered 'round the cake at the American Legion's 46th Birthday dinner: William Ambrosino, commander; Earle Bachman, historian, and Dr. G. A. Eichler, speaker . . .

That balmy Easter when Barbara Wirth and Sandra Weider had to put the top down . . .

How anxious everyone was to be the Girl of the Month: K. Becker, B. BenVenuti, J. Augustine, S. Fogle, seated; S. Marth, M. Horst, C. Marsh, J. Keller, E. Deily, standing.

Likewise the Boy of the Month: W. Frey, P. Rumsey, S. Sayuk, L. Ellis, seated; R. Drake, L. Brobst, J. Mauser, C. Nordquist, P. McMurry, G. Amore, standing.

that are no more.

We remember last year's Commencement — how the fellows got dressed and paraded around outside, like Mike Lisetski, John Milander, and Werner Greb . . .

Then everyone was herded into the gym to line up for the last march . . .

Into the auditorium where Linda Wunder gave her speech . . .

. . . and so did Dennis Krill . . .

. . . the Senior Ensemble sang . . .

Then came diplomas and it was all over. We'll remember our own as well — forever.

An aerial, sepia-toned photograph of a school campus. A large, rectangular school building with multiple wings is visible in the upper left. To its right and below is a large, curved swimming pool. The surrounding area includes parking lots with some cars and other smaller buildings. The overall tone is nostalgic and reflective.

REMINISCENCE

We have made a memory,
Which affords delightful hours;
Sports and frolics, plays to see,
Fairs, assemblies, teachers' glowers.

Twelve long years have schooled us well,
Mathematics, language, shop;
All were glimpsed, yet we excel
Solely where we deigned to stop.

Molded through the years of toil
Was the more important thought:
Facts alone will just embroil;
'Twas attitude we sought!

Reminiscence gives the key —
We have forged what can't be read;
Let our lookout ever be:
Looking back, we go ahead.

—Robert Drake
